ASSEMBLY—AUGUSTUS BECKERT, GEORGE WILSON, W. R. FORD, GEORGE R RIDDLE, ALEXANDER MILLAR, DAVID L. SMITH.
PROTHONOTARY—JACOB H WALTER.
TREASURER—MAJ. JOSEPH F. DENNISTON.
COMMISSIONER—ARCHIBALD PILLOW.
CORONER—WILLIAM CLAWSON.
JURY COMMISSIONER—CHARLES A. PUGH.
DIRECTOR OF POOR—ROBERT H. DAVIS.

ONE WEEK MORE.

Just one week from to-day the labors of the campaign will be ended. The canvass has been a short one in Allegheny county, and it has not been characterized by any great degree of activity on either side. It has been the policy of the Copperheads to keep as quiet as possible, in the hope that the Republicans might be caught napping. But this dodge will avail them nothing. They have resorted to every species of political tactics since the war, in order to gain a foothold here, but they have been uniformly doomed to defeat. Since the campaign has been fairly opened, the Republican masses have shaken off their lethargy, and by the close of the present week will be as wide awake as ever. A great deal of work has been accomplished during the past ten days, but much remains to be done. First in importance is a thorough and efficient organization in all the wards, boroughs and townships. Many of the sub-districts have already organized, and it is gratifying to learn, that, where pains have been taken to ascertain the fact, the party vote will equal that of the last Presidential contest. It is only by proper organization in each election district that the real strength of the party can be ascertained in advance of the election, and there is no more efficient method than this of getting out the entire vote. We would earnestly urge upon the active workers in the districts not yet organized, the importance of giving this matter their immediate attention. Let the most active, judicious and experienced workers have places on the vigilance and other Committees, and by all means see that the tables are well served on the day of the election. Next in importance to these local organizations, is the duty devolving upon each individual to talk with and stir up his lukewarm or indifferent friends and acquaintances. No one should be lukewarm in the Republican cause, or indifferent to the safety of his country. If any are found likely to commit political suicide by abandoning their principles for the sake of aiding new party schemes, point out the absurdity of their course, the utter futility of any effort in that direction, and the humiliating position in which they will thus place themselves. There is no one more to be pitied than the political backslider, who, after having espoused some fallacious doctrine and found himself wofully humbugged, seeks to return to his first love. Let all who are deliberating upon the folly of abandoning their party organizations, study well the consequences of the step. Now is the time for Republicans to act—now is the time for them to reason together. One week more and the work of this campaign will be ended. If the suggestions which we have made meet with a hearty response from our active working men, five thousand votes can be gained for the ticket in this one week! There are scores of good workers in every election precinct, who can, by their own personal exertions, command their five, ten, fifteen and twenty voters. This is the work we would have them perform during the few days which remain. The Assessors' books are now closed, and it only remains for us to get out the full party vote. Work! if you value the principles of the Republican party. Work! if you would strike down the brazen brow of Copperheadism. Work! if you would rebuke the treason of ANDREW JOHNSON. Work! if you would sustain and defend the acts of a loyal Congress. Work! if you revere the memory of our martyred heroes, and would reap the fruits of their glorious victory over treason, disunion and rebellion. The time is but short. Work! work! work!

The Synod of Allegheny.

This ecclesiastical body, of the Presbyterian Church, met on Thursday last, in Greenville, Pa., and continued in session for two days. The Synod is composed of four Presbyteries, Erie, Beaver, Allegheny and Allegheny City. Its field of operations lies between the Allegheny river and the Ohio line and between the Ohio and Lake Erie, in which there are a large number of Presbyterian congregations. About one hundred and ten members were present in Synod. The Rev. Dr. Riggs, of Clarksville, presided over its deliberations.

THE new gun of which the French are making such an ado, and which they call the "little cannon," is strongly suspected to be nothing more than the old telescope gun originally invented by the Duc d'Aumale, who, when a boy at the college Louis le Grand—being in disgrace and solitary confinement, while his companions were all enjoying themselves in the playground, managed to project paper bullets through the grated bars of the prison by means of a paper pistol made to slide up like a telescope. The usher against whose head the bullets were directed was pleased beyond measure. It was the first time that a Prince had ever invented anything at Louis le Grand, and it was eulogized accordingly. Louis Philippe was less contented, and obstinately refused to have the idea carried out, although the same promise of universal destruction in Algeria was held out if the telescope gun were but brought to perfection.

Several journals have animadverted upon a letter of President Johnson's recommending one Frank Reilly to the favorable consideration of Collector Smythe, as one suitable for an appointment in the New York Custom House. The letter is dated in December last, and was found upon the person of Reilly when he was arrested in Chicago, a few days ago, on a charge of breaking open a safe in Louisville and taking therefrom $46,000. It is learned upon inquiry of the President, that the Reilly to whom the letter was given was known to Mr. Johnson when the latter was Governor of Tennessee. That while Nashville was invested by the rebel army Reilly several times performed hazardous service, by passing the rebel lines and returning with most important news for the Union officers. On one occasion Reilly undertook this service when all others refused to attempt it. He came to the White House last December needy, and asked assistance, and the letter above mentioned was given him.

IT is reported that in a recent conversation with Lucy Stone, Mr. Chase said: "Be free to say from me that I think there will be no end to the good that will come by woman's suffrage, on the elected, on elections, on government, and on woman herself. I have said this in public and private for many years. I am glad that an effort is making in Kansas to accomplish it, and I shall rejoice when the elective franchise will be as free to women as it is now to men. I think, too, that this will be at no distant day."

A young Scotchman, named Hugh Crawford Pollock, who arrived in New York about two years since, and shortly afterwards enlisted in the Fifth United States Cavalry as a private soldier, has, by the death of his father in Scotland, fallen heir to a baronetcy and five thousand pounds a year. Through the intercession of the late Sir Frederick Bruce, General Grant has discharged Pollock from the service. For some months past the faithful Baronet had been discharging the duties of farrier of his regiment.

THE superstition that cholera is caused by poisoners has been alluded to. In one commune in Italy a rumor spread that poisoners had arrived in the village. They were said to approach the doors of the houses, and through the keyholes blow poison on the family. Instantly the whole population abandoned their habitations, leaving only a few men, who fired guns out of the windows into the air, to neutralize the deleterious effects of what had been done.

Charges have been made against General Swayne, head of the Freedmen's Bureau in Alabama, on the ground that he is running his office in the interest of himself as a candidate for the United States Senate, under the reconstructed State. His chief clerk, one Keiffer, is Chairman of the State Radical Central Committee.

The Approaching Trial of Jeff. Davis

Result of Louisiana Election in Doubt.

THE PUBLIC DEBT STATEMENT.

Gen. Sickles Refused a Court of Inquiry.

The Elections Next Week the Absorbing Topic.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, September 30, 1867.

The Jeff. Davis Trial.

The statement that the Government is being consulted relative to the postponement of the trial of Jefferson Davis from November, is without foundation. That question is left solely for the Court to decide. The Attorney General has not even been conferred with as to additional counsel for the Government.

The Louisiana Convention.

The dispatches from New Orleans are indefinite to-day as to whether the Louisiana election has resulted in a call for a State Convention. That there is a majority of the votes actually cast for a Convention, no doubt is entertained, but the third section of the act of March 23d, requires that a majority of all the registered voters shall vote on the question one way or the other, and in that event a majority of that number calls a convention. It is feared, in view of this, that the convention is lost.

Cotton in Bond.

It is quite probable that the Treasury Department will modify the regulations recently issued relative to cotton in bond and in transitu. The new regulation, like those regulating tobacco and whisky, seem to give great dissatisfaction.

The Debt Statement.

The public debt statement for September will be out about Wednesday. It will not show as large a reduction as for August. The internal revenue receipts and customs for that month fell off considerably. The internal revenue returns hardly average a quarter of a million per day.

Gen. Sickles.

The Intelligencer to-day confirms the statement that Gen. Sickles will not be granted a court of inquiry.

The Epidemic in the Army.

Reports to the Adjutant General's office show that two hundred and fifty privates and seven officers are now under treatment for yellow fever at Jackson Barracks, New Orleans. In the first regiment U. S. Infantry there have been at the barracks, and at the military hospital at Greenville, La., upward of a hundred deaths by yellow fever.

The Coming Elections.

There is a decided lull in Washington news. Public attention here is directed to the elections next week, and nothing else seems to be thought of or talked of. The President, it is understood, will do nothing in the way of removals until after these elections.

Almost Deserted.

The White House to-day was almost deserted, there being but very few callers. The Nicaraguan Minister took his farewell of the President.

Personal.

The ex-rebel Secretary of State, Hunter, arrived here to-day.

Register of the Treasury.

The President to-night appointed Col. Wood L. Jeffries, of Maryland, register of the Treasury, vice Colby, deceased.

WASHINGTON, September 30, 1867.

THE PUBLIC DEBT STATEMENT FOR SEPTEMBER.

The forthcoming statement of the public debt for September, it is said, will show a further reduction in the sum total, though it is not expected to be as large as the one previous. The internal revenue receipts as well as the customs have fallen off perceptibly during the month of September, and the sales of gold have really been less than in the month of August.

CHASE SANGUINE OF A RADICAL VICTORY IN OHIO.

A private letter from Chief Justice Chase, now in Ohio, states that the manhood suffrage amendment to the State Constitution, as well as the Republican ticket, will be carried at the approaching election. Mr. Chase has arrived at this conclusion after careful observation of and inquiry into the strength of the two parties in the State.

COLD COMFORT.

Congressman Samuel J. Randall, of Philadelphia, arrived Saturday at the head of a delegation of hungry Pennsylvania politicians. They had an interview with the President this morning, when Mr. Randall tried to impress the Executive with the importance of a redistribution of the Federal patronage in Pennsylvania in order to carry the approaching election for the Democrats. Randall says Mr. Johnson is fearfully indifferent to his own interests, and gave him but little satisfaction as to what he intends doing. The President expressed the opinion that those in favor of the preservation of the Constitution ought to carry the election without having inducements held out to them in the shape of office.

AMERICAN SECURITIES ABROAD—WHY THE DEMAND FOR THEM INCREASES.

Our Consul at Frankfort, in writing to the Department of State, says that a leading financier of that city remarks rather strikingly that the increasing demand for American securities is easily explained by the circumstance that the United States are making an advantageous exception from all the States of reduced currency, for which the latter are obliged to cover deficiencies by the contraction of new loans under more and more onerous conditions, and are thereby more and more embarrassing their finances, the United States are successfully working for a reduction of their public debt, and a consolidation of the same by paying off their obligations at short maturity.

AN EXAMPLE FOR AGED MILLIONAIRES—TWENTY THOUSAND DOLLARS BEQUEATHED TO THE GOVERNMENT.

The Secretary of the Treasury has received a notification from the executors of the last will and testament of the late Captain Ralph S. Fritz, late of San Francisco, that the said testator has left to the United States the sum of $20,000, in trust, to be applied towards cancelling the national debt. The executors express the hope that "this legacy may be but the forerunner of numerous similar exhibitions of patriotism by other men." The Captain says in his will that he has been greatly blessed; that he has an undying attachment to the Government, the best one that man was ever permitted to enjoy, and that as he was too old to render service in the field to put down and punish the great crime of rebellion, he feels it to be his duty to contribute towards the payment of the debt incurred in that patriotic work.

GOOD NEWS FROM PENSACOLA.

The commandant of the navy yards at Pensacola reports to the Secretary of the Navy, under date of the 24th of September, that there have been but three new cases of yellow fever since the 16th. The sick at the hospital and station are generally doing well, and he trusts with the exercise of prudence he will be able in a few days to report Pensacola clear of the epidemic.

NICARAGUAN MINISTER RECALLED.

Senor Molina to-day presented to the President his letter of recall. He has acceptably represented the Government of Nicaragua here for several years.

MUSTERED OUT.

The following officers have been relieved from duty in the Freedmen's Bureau, mustered out and honorably discharged the United States service: Brevet Lieut. Col. A. W. Shaffer, Brevet Major A. W. Ballerius, Captain James W. Tracy, Brevet Major George G. Henry, and Second Lieutenant Isaac Porter.

A COLORED POLICEMAN.

James M. Murphy, colored, from Nashville, was to-day appointed by the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate member of the Capitol police.

Incendiarism in Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., September 30.—Three fires have occurred at Madison, Ind., during the last twenty-four hours, supposed to be the work of incendiaries. One lumber yard, two carpenter shops, two dwellings, and one stable, containing a valuable horse, were totally destroyed. The extensive furniture warehouse of H. F. Robbins was partially destroyed, the latter fully covered by insurance. A man named Wilson, supposed to be the incendiary, has been arrested.

The Yucca.

FORTRESS MONROE, September 28.—The United Steamer Yucca, which arrived here on the 22d inst., with seven cases of yellow fever on board, sailed this morning for Portsmouth navy yard. Five of the patients are entirely recovered and the other two convalescent.

Saw Mill Burned in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, September 30.—The Central Saw Mill, in the Seventeenth ward, owned by Harris & Fursh, was entirely destroyed by fire yesterday morning. Loss $12,000, insurance $5,900.

CANFIELD, OHIO.

Dwelling House Destroyed by Fire---Loss $3,000, Partially Insured.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., September 30, 1867.

Yesterday the frame dwelling house of Henry Hoffman, next door South of the Court House, in Canfield, was burned to the ground, with its contents and two hundred and fifty dollars in money. The family were all at Church, except the servant girl. Cause, defective flue. Loss about three thousand dollars, partially insured.

THE NATIONAL GAME.

The Championship Match---The Atlantics Refuse to Play, and the Athletics Claim the Championship.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

PHILADELPHIA, September 30, 1867.

In accordance with agreement, the Athletics visited Brooklyn to-day, to play the return match with the Atlantics. The latter refused to play. The Athletics claimed the ball, which the Atlantics refused to deliver. The Athletics then claimed the championship. C. H. G.

NEW YORK, September 30.—In the base ball match of the Athletics vs. the Atlantics the latter refused to play, three of their members being disabled. This virtually gives the championship to the Athletics of Philadelphia.

FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, September 30, 1867.

ANOTHER BANK FAILURE.

The National Bank at Whitestown, Oneida county, is reported failed. Its capital, $120,000, is understood to be wasted, and apprehensions are entertained that the stockholders will have to be assessed.

THE ERIE ROAD.

It is rumored that important arrangements are in course of completion for placing the Erie Road upon an improved footing.

WAIVED AN EXAMINATION.

Callicott, and others accused of whisky frauds, waived a preliminary hearing.

DEATH OF LIEUT. COMMANDER FLEMING.

Lieutenant Commander Charles E. Fleming, of the navy, died at Mount Holly, N. J., Friday.

A BANK VICTIMIZED.

The Atlas Bank of Providence has been victimized by the cashier for several thousand dollars—report says $40,000. The bank was about winding up its accounts.

DISTILLERY SEIZED.

The distillery of Krump & Lynch, New York, was seized. Lynch holds a position under the Revenue Department, and Krump is a city official.

DEATH OF A MINISTER.

Rev. Dr. John M. Kerbs, one of the ablest ministers of the Old School Presbyterians, died this morning.

THE PATMOS.

The bark Patmos, which was so long under surveillance by the Spanish fleet at St. Thomas for carrying war material to Chile, has returned here.

CONSPIRACY TO DEFRAUD.

Michael C. Grist and Mathias Goecel were held for examination, charged with conspiracy to defraud the United States by forged pension papers. The complaint was made by Mr. Foster, of the Boston Pension Office.

ARRIVED.

The steamer City of Antwerp from Liverpool arrived to-night.

GENERAL SHERIDAN

Visited Brooklyn to-day by invitation of the city government, and arrangements were made for a public reception at City Hall to-morrow. The City Councils of New York have tendered the hospitalities of the city, and placed the Governor's room at Sheridan's disposal for a reception. On Wednesday the General receives the ladies of New York at the Union League Rooms.

YELLOW FEVER AT DEMERARA.

Our Consul at Demerara, under date of August 30, reports that the yellow fever has again made its appearance, principally among seamen in the harbor.

SAVANNAH.

Disturbance Among Negroes---Large Number of Arrests.

SAVANNAH, September 30.—A man named Bradley, a Boston mulatto, who has been several times arrested by the military and civil authorities for swindling negroes and exciting them to disturbance, had a gathering here of about a thousand negroes, mostly from the country, to-day. In the course of his harangues against the white men, and in favor of a distribution of lands to the conservative negroes, he was interrupted and a melee occurred. A large force of police charged through the crowd. The military came to their aid, and together cleared the square. The muskets brought in by a large band of country negroes were taken by the police and turned over to the military. A large proportion of the colored population disapprove of Bradley, and threaten to assassinate him.

The entente cordiale between the city government and the military, affords great satisfaction to all classes except the adherents of Bradley.

LATER.—The city is quiet. Disturbances are threatened between the country conservatives and city colored people to-night, but General Anderson, Chief of Police, has given orders to arrest every disorderly person, regardless of color or politics. The military will remain under arms, but their services will probably not be needed.

A large number of arrests of rioters and several ringleaders have been made, and they will probably be sent to Fort Pulaski by the military.

DOMINION OF CANADA.

McDonald will not Resign---Jeff. Davis---Accident---Cholera---Fire.

TORONTO, September 30.—The Leader is authorized to deny the rumor that Sir John A. McDonald contemplates retiring from the cabinet and accepting the position of Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals.

Jeff. Davis and wife arrived here yesterday.

The large fly wheel of the Great Western rolling mills, at Hamilton, burst Saturday evening, injuring three persons.

QUEBEC, September 30.—None of the troops per Himalaya have yet been permitted to disembark here. The vessel has been sent back to quarantine for further purification, a new case of cholera having appeared aboard.

A fire broke out Saturday night in Alderman Kirkham's stable, and before the progress of the flames was arrested, six buildings were destroyed. Loss very heavy.

ST. CATHARINES, September 30.—Fitzgerald's livery stable and the adjacent building were destroyed by fire yesterday. Seven horses were burned. Fully insured.

First Snow of the Season.

KEENE, N. H., September 30.—Three inches of snow fell to-day in Nelson, fifteen miles from this place. There have been also several flurries of it here.

Death of the Brazilian Consul to Boston.

BOSTON, September 30.—Archibald Foster, Consul of Brazil at this port, died last night of disease of the heart.

The Body of Maximilian.

A correspondent of the Tribune, who has been to Queretaro, and there saw the body of Maximilian, writes:

I found the coffin containing the remains, in a room in the second story of the house occupied by Sr. Don Munos Dedo. A soldier stood guard at the door, ready to give admittance to all who might desire to look at the body, which willingness was, in our case, somewhat accelerated by the influence of a few reals. The apartment bore the appearance of having once been used for a storeroom, and was both very dark and extremely filthy. The coffin stood in the centre of the room, resting on a couple of rude wood benches. It is covered with black cloth, adorned with a cheap quality of gold lace, the top of which has a false cover or lid, opening which case revealed three glasses, through which the silent form of the ill-fated Austrian was shown by the aid of a penny tallow candle kept by the soldier for visitor's use. The Emperor was dressed in a suit composed of a blue coat, with a row of brass buttons in front, dark blue pants, and heavy cavalry boots. His hands were covered with a pair of white gloves, very much soiled. His mouth and eyes were partially open, plainly showing his teeth and the color of his eyes. His beard is quite gone, as well as the greater part of his hair, which, I am informed, has been cut off by Dr. Lisso, who had charge of the embalmment, and sold it, he receiving as high as five ounces—$80—for small locks of the same. The body of the Emperor remained at Lisso's house until last week, when it was removed to its present location, during which time he made use of it as a means of speculation. He also disposed of whatever effects belonging to Maximilian he could obtain, charging large sums for small pieces of his blood-stained garments, which he cut up and sold. It is also alleged that he has even removed a small portion of the skull, for which he obtained a large sum, replacing it with wood. I cannot vouch for this, but it has general belief here. The doctor affirms that the government has failed to pay him his bill for the embalment of some $40,000, and declares his intention of making his money the surest way possible.

OUR STEUBENVILLE CORRESPONDENCE.

Sheridan's Late Visit---Protest Against Action of the Pittsburgh Committee---Revenue Frauds---Business Prospects.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.

STEUBENVILLE, September 21, 1867.

"Hurrah! for Sheridan, the hero of Winchester." Scarcely had the echo of these words died away as the cars moved off bearing "gallant Phil" on to Washington, than the supporters of "My Policy" could be seen congregating on every corner "hissing and wriggling" over the insult to the great high priest of this nation. Andrew Johnson had been groaned in the city of Steubenville, while his subordinate had been cheered. True, his subordinate in one respect, but his superior in many others. And to make the matter more ridiculous they had noticed that when the groans were given that Sheridan did not like it. It was ungentlemanly, they said. We ought to respect the head of the nation, and the Gazette of this morning, after giving a report of the reception, as it appeared in the COMMERCIAL of yesterday, referring to the speech of Rev. Mr. Boyle, says, is it to be wondered at that the crowd "groaned" after hearing the above come from the source it did? So far as Sheridan not liking it (Rev. Boyle's speech and the groans) is concerned, I will just take occasion to say here that just after Rev. Mr. Boyle had concluded his speech, and was about to leave the car, Gen. Sheridan took him by the arm and said, "Mr. Boyle, I thank you from the bottom of my heart for that speech." For the benefit of those dear souls whose feelings have been wounded, I will say that on the way from Cadiz Junction to this city, and while General Sheridan was being introduced to the Steubenville delegation, one of them remarked that while he felt honored in having the privilege of taking him (Sheridan) by the hand, he believed that we (the committee) would not send our compliments to Johnson, to which the General replied, "If you do, you had better send them by mail; they will be more likely to reach him that way."

On behalf of the citizens of the "Independent Republic" of Steubenville, I enter my solemn protest against the action of the reception Committee from your city. We are opposed to any man being welcomed to Allegheny county while he is in Ohio, and although, when compared to your city, this "little village" would sink into utter insignificance, yet we feel that when our City Council and a Committee of citizens get up a reception, we ought to be allowed the privilege of conducting it according to our own ideas. Our committees went to Cadiz Junction and accompanied Gen. Sheridan to this city, but no sooner had the train stopped than those who were to guard the platform were forced back, and the General surrounded by the Pittsburgh Committee before he was presented to the citizens of Steubenville. And even while Mr. Boyle was delivering the address, he was interrupted by a gentleman who wanted to know whether he was going on or not. We were disposed to attribute this action to the excitement, and would say nothing about it had it not occured once before, at the time Gen. Grant was here. The programme had been made out that day. Grant was to be presented to the people by one of our distinguished speakers, who had his speech committed to memory. He came upon the balcony of the United States House, with the General by his side, and was about to commence when the chairman of the Pittsburgh delegation proceeded to speak his piece. Our orator very politely told him "this was our party." The Judge begged pardon and stopped, and in the excitement of the moment our distinguished fellow citizen forgot his speech, and nodded to Rev. Boyle to go ahead and receive him. So you will see in a moment that what we ask is nothing more than right, and your committees will always have "forty three" miles to make their arrangements in. Therefore, we ask that hereafter we may be allowed the privilege of getting through with our "little receptions" without being interrupted by having them welcomed to Pennsylvania while they are on this side of the bridge.

Henry Kreiter, who was arrested some time since charged with defrauding the revenue, has been to Cleveland and succeeded in getting his case settled on the payment of seventy-seven dollars and seventy cents. Henry is very indignant at the officers in this city, who demanded three hundred and fifty dollars to settle. There appears to be a great deal of talk among the Germans in regard to this case and that of Chas. Wagner, whose stock was seized at the same time, and who was "mulcted" in the sum of $400, besides having his stock of cigars confiscated. Wagner thinks Kreiter got off very cheap, while Kreiter thinks the other way in regard to Wagner. I learn from the officers here that Wagner's case was a very aggravated one. He was engaged largely in the business, and was working a number of hands, while Kreiter was simply manufacturing some tobacco which he had on hands, and, as the officers learned afterward, intended to stamp. His real offense amounted to nothing more than manufacturing without license.

Business in some branches is certainly looking up in this city, judging from the incomes returned by different firms and corporations for the last month. The total amount returned for August is $8,337 64, and I learn from Mr. David Myers, the Deputy Collector for this district, that this is a large increase over the previous month. The largest incomes in the above are: F. Flote, tobacconist, $450. Spaulding, Woodward & Co., nail manufacturers (Jefferson Iron Works), $1,665 11. Wm. Baer & Son, tobacco manufacturers, $923 20. P., C. & C. R. R., $1,622 85. Andrews, Orr & Co., oil refiners, $1,572. The latter have been in business but a few months, yet in that short time they have built up an excellent trade throughout Ohio and Indiana. The Collector states that all the tax that has been levied for revenue purposes from December 1, 1866, until the present has all been paid, which speaks well for this community. K. N. P.

Largest Republican Meeting of the Campaign---Fatal Railroad Accident---Rev. Mr. Gillett---Railway Precautions---The Coming Election.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.

STEUBENVILLE, September 28, 1867.

The citizens of Steubenville were out in their strength this evening to hear Hon. J. Ewing Brooks, and General W. H. Gibson, on the political issues of the day, and I am satisfied if the Copperheads were to give figures for a meeting as large as this was, of their own party, they would in all probability have the numbers set down at about ten thousand. I do not propose to give numbers. It is enough to say that this meeting is the largest that has been held here during the campaign.

An old lady named Johnson, residing in this city, was killed on the Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railroad a few days ago, by being struck by a passing train. As near as I can ascertain, the facts are as follows: She had taken the passenger train from this city for the purpose of going to Sloan's station, and being totally deaf did not hear the brakesman call out the station, and was carried past. The conductor finding that she was still aboard the train, went to her and told her that she could get off at Yellow Creek, and there would be a train along in a few minutes, by which she could return; but being of a very headstrong disposition she would not wait, and started back, walking on the track. The old lady was about eighty years of age and very feeble, and has made some very narrow escapes lately, and so far as I can hear, there can be no blame attached to any of the employes of the road.

Rev. Gillett, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, who was injured a few days ago by a fall which he received while crossing the creek in the neighborhood of Alexandria Station, Pittsburgh, Columbus and Cincinnati Railroad, is so far recovered as to be able to resume his pastoral labors. This will be gratifying news to many friends of Rev. Gillett.

I noticed in passing over the Pittsburgh, Columbus and Cincinnati Railroad, a day or two since, that the company are having whistling posts located along the line of the road on both sides, so that they can be seen by engineers both going and returning. The posts have a large letter "W" painted on them, and each post is located eighty rods from each crossing on the road, and it is made the duty of each and every man running an engine on the road to blow the whistle of his engine promptly when he approaches these posts, so that parties who may be in the neighborhood can be warned in time to clear the track.

The election is drawing near, and the members of both parties are straining every nerve to have every vote polled on that day, and from present appearances old Jefferson will give a good account of herself on that occasion, and will, if anything, give a larger majority than was given at the last State election. K. N. P.

LATE NEWS.

The last of the Missouri six million dollar war claim was passed by the Treasury Department on Saturday.

The rebel General Sterling Price died at St. Louis on Sunday morning, of disease contracted during the Mexican war.

The President has appointed the following gentlemen as Government Directors of the Union Pacific Railroad: Jesse L. Williams, of Indiana; Timothy J. Carter, of Illinois; James G. Rollins, of Missouri; George Ashmun, of Massachusetts.

The Liberal papers of France publish the following confidential circular, issued by Marshal Bazaine while in Mexico: "I request you to make known to the troops under your command that I do not allow prisoners to be made. Every person, no matter whom, taken with arms in his hands, will be put to death. No exchange of prisoners will be made for the future. Our soldiers must be made thoroughly aware that they ought not to surrender their arms to such adversaries. This is a 'war to the death, a struggle, 'a L' Outrance' between barbarism and civilization, which is now entered upon. On both sides to be killed has become necessary. Roofing-in a Railroad---New Stage Company---Navigation of Colorado River---Iron Arriving --- Interesting from Alaska.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 30.—The Central Pacific Railroad Company are preparing for winter by roofing-in the most exposed portions of the track through the snow belt, such as deep cuts. Large quantities of freight are now crossing the mountains.

The reported wrecking of the brig Commodore on Alcatraz Island, is incorrect.

The Oregon and California Stage Company has been organized, capital one hundred and seventy thousand dollars, to transport the mails and passengers from Sacramento to Portland, a distance of seven hundred miles.

Considerable iron is arriving now for the various California Railroads.

An adjourned meeting of merchants this evening appointed a Committee to procure subscriptions for stock in a company to place a regular line of steamers on the Colorado river. The enterprise will doubtless go ahead.

The Sierra Nevada brings advices from Alaska, via Victoria, to August 20th. The United States exploring and surveying expedition which arrived on the Lincoln, would soon start from Sitka for Oonalaska. They were detained by rain, fog and wind. There is considerable business activity at New Archangel. Lots have advanced several hundred dollars. There is some jumping. There is some coin in circulation, but leather money predominates. The Copper river country is reported by Indians and Russians as rich in gold, copper and coal, but the savages are very hostile and warlike. The weather at New Archangel is much praised. All kinds of common vegetables are raised, and many berries. Salmon and other fish are very plenty. Deer sell at eighty cents each. The Russians, Finns and Germans are very glad to be annexed.

The Victoria Colonist says the United States navy yard has been selected at Cambridge Island, near Port Townsend, W. T. The principal fortifications will be built at Point Weston, at the head of Fuca straits. The ship builders on Puget Sound are preparing for extensive orders in the spring.

Idaho reports mention favorable mining yields, and continued to be troubled with Indians.

There is great excitement at Victoria over a supposed volcanic eruption sixty-five miles distant, in the Cascade range.

The Colonist rejoices in the prospect of the union of British Columbia with the Canadian Dominion.

Agricultural and mining reports from Oregon are highly favorable.

THE TURF.

Fall Meeting of Laclede Association of St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, September 30.—The Fall meeting of the Laclede racing association opened to-day with three races. The weather was very fine, and the attendance unusually large. The first race was sweepstakes, hurdles, two miles over eight hurdles three feet and a half high. Purse $500. The starters were R. A. Alexander's colt Jonesboro, George W. Ford's colts Elastic and Rubber. The race was won by Jonesboro; time 4:03½. Rubber fell at the last hurdle, and his rider was knocked insensible, but soon recovered.

The second race, sweepstakes for two year olds, mile dash, $500, twenty-two entries. There were twelve starters, as follows: G. W. Ford's Dick Richards, Geo. Barrow's Wisconsin, F. Bissick's Hazard, and Pat Malloy; B. B. Tyler's Chestnut filly by Waterloo; W. W. Henderson's Helen Mar, John Reber's Ontario; J. V. Grisby's Minnie Milton; John H. Davis's Bay filly by Lexington; A. C. Franklin's Bill Cheatham, and Johnson & Douglas's Charlotte Thompson and Richetiere. Hazard was the winner, Pat Malloy second, Ontario third. Time 1:49¼.

The third race, sweepstakes for three-year olds, mile heats, $500, sixteen entries and seven starters: Bissick's Maggie Hunter; H. Barnes's Sandy Barnes; John W. Shaw's Jim Walker; G. W. Dillahunt's Conflict; John M. Clay's Plantagenet; R. Alexander's Woodstock; A. C. Franklin's Viola. Woodstock won the first heat; Conflict second, Maggie Hunter third, Plantagenet fourth; time 1:48. The second heat was won by Plantagenet after a sharp contest, by half a length. Jim Walker, Conflict and Woodstock made a dead heat; Sandy Barnes and Hunter several lengths behind; time 1:50. The third heat was won by Plantagenet; Walker second, Barnes third, Woodstock fourth, Conflict fifth, Hunter sixth, and Viola seventh; time 1:50½. The track was heavy and slow.

NEW YORK, September 30.—The great trot at Fashion Course, for a purse of one thousand dollars, mile heats, in harness, between Lady Thorne, Mountain Boy, Bruno and Lucy, came off to-day. It was the best race ever witnessed on Long Island. Lady Thorne won the first heat in 2:25¼; Mountain Boy second, and Bruno distanced. Mountain Boy won the second heat in 2:24¾. Lady Thorne won the third and fourth in 2:24 and 2:24. Mountain Boy and Lady Thorne have been matched for a similar race for $5,000, half forfeit, over the Union Course, on Monday next.

VIRGINIA.

Revision of Registration List---Change in Bureau Officers---Nomination.

RICHMOND, September 30.—The registration lists for final revision, are open by order until the 8th of October.

Mr. Shanks, of the Congressional Committee appointed to investigate the treatment of prisoners, addressed a crowd of blacks this evening at the capitol.

The Republican ward meetings are called for to-night, but are repudiated by Hunnicut, the acknowledged leader of the blacks.

Col. J. A. Bates, who has returned from Europe, has been ordered to relieve Maj. Stone, Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau at Petersburg.

Franklin Stearnes, conservative Republican, was nominated for member of the Convention by the Republican meeting in Henrico county.

The Republican ward meetings for organization were held to-night, and passed off harmoniously in two wards. In the lower ward a noisy assemblage adjourned the meeting without any action at all, save electing a Chairman, who held his seat only ten minutes.

NASHVILLE.

Trouble About the New City Government.

NASHVILLE, TENN., September 30.—The city authorities to-day petitioned Chancellor Harrison for an injunction restraining the elected Mayor and Council from being inducted into office. It is understood that he will give them an early hearing.

The Commissioner of Registration called on Recorder Foster and notified him that if he did not administer the oath of office to the new Mayor and Council, the Commissioner would. Council held a meeting and amongst others adopted a resolution of instruction to Mayor Brown to ascertain from the Secretary of State whether the newly elected officers had taken the candidates' oath required by law. It is believed that if the old officers do not vacate to-morrow, General Cooper will eject them by military force.

ST. LOUIS.

Kansas Pacific Railroad---Mineral Discoveries---Funeral of Gen. Price.

ST. LOUIS, September 30.—Gen. Palmer, Treasurer of the Kansas Pacific Railroad, and Captain Colton arrived at Santa Fe, on the 16th ult., and were received by the territorial authorities. The surveying parties were examining three routes from Fort Union to the Rio Grande, at Albuquerque and Fort Craig. The country is favorable for the construction of the railroad. General Palmer found extensive deposits of anthracite coal, large beds of iron ore, and abundance of timber for cross-ties near the proposed line of the road.

The funeral of General Sterling Price to-day, was one of the largest ever seen here. The ceremonies took place in the First Methodist Church, (Dr. Boyle), where the remains lay in state all the morning, and were visited by very large numbers of citizens.

Effects of Stock Gambling.

NEW MILFORD, Conn., September 30.—John J. Conklin, cashier of the First National Bank, has absconded. His defalcation to the bank is about $50,000. It was caused by stock operations.

Cutlery Establishment Burned.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., September 30.—Baston & Lathrop's cutlery establishment, at West Winsted, Conn., was burned on Saturday, with all its contents. Loss $70,000, fully insured.

The Fever in Mobile.

MOBILE, September 30.—There have been but three deaths from yellow fever during the last two days.

* * *

The number of deaths in New York city during the week ending Saturday, was 437—being 131 less than for the previous week, and a decrease of fifty as compared with the figures of the corresponding week of the preceding year.

SHERIDAN.

Rousing Reception in New York--A Long Speech from the General--Grand Military Turnout.

NEW YORK, September 30.—The reception of General Sheridan by the Union League to-night was a fine affair. The club building was illuminated, and was early filled by members and guests. At a little past eight General Sheridan and staff arrived, and were escorted by the officers of the club to the parlors, where President Jay welcomed him on behalf of the members as an officer of the Republic renowned for his prowess in the field and his fidelity to the country in the civil services which it had been his duty to perform. The speech was frequently interrupted with applause.

General Sheridan responded by saying: "I have scarcely language to express the very great appreciation I have for your very warm and hearty welcome. I only hope that I may be able hereafter to deserve the same approval in all my acts. I certainly know that before, and believe hereafter, I shall never by any act of mine attempt to make rebellion honorable. [Loud applause.] Rebellion is a crime, and it shall not be made honorable. [Cheers.] I thank you."

After Sheridan concluded, three cheers were given for him, and the members of the club were introduced by Col. Howe and other members of the reception committee. A collation was served, during which the band played patriotic airs from the balcony. The square was filled with thousands of people, alternately cheering and shouting for the General.

The military procession formed at nine o'clock, and comprised five divisions, including three regiments of militia and large numbers of veterans, the last division being composed of colored veteran soldiers. All were accompanied by bands and commanded by veteran officers. After marching through several streets, the procession reached Union Square, in front of the Club House, where they halted and formed in hollow square, with the bands in the center.

General Sheridan's appearance on the balcony was the signal for an outburst of the wildest enthusiasm. He was introduced to the assemblage by John Jay.

Gen. Sheridan said: I desire to thank you for the reception you have given me to-night. I am always delighted to see men with whom I have endured the dangers of the war. I recollect with what alacrity the volunteers turned out when danger menaced the country, and also the earnestness with which the men of this league sustained the Union in the field. Whilst personally I feel honored by this demonstration, I do not forget that the men in the ranks were the true heroes of the war.

The speech was frequently interrupted by applause, and closed with tremendous cheers and playing the Star Spangled Banner by the band, the audience joining in with their voices. The General retired from the balcony amidst the most deafening huzzas.

The bands united in a monster serenade, performing many patriotic tunes. The immense assemblage dispersed quietly at about one o'clock this morning. The General will have a reception at Brooklyn to-morrow.

LOUISIANA.

The Election---Meager Vote in New Orleans---Majority in Favor of a Convention.

NEW ORLEANS, September 30.—The total vote of the city falls 2,598 short of a majority of the registered voters. The Republican has further returns from Algiers and the parishes of St. Bernard, St. Charles, and St. James, showing so far that 850 less than a majority of the number registered have voted on the Convention question, but returns from the country parishes indicate that a majority in the whole State have voted. The vote against the Convention was insignificant, as was the number of white voters. The proportion of white voters is less than one in ten.

Mortality in New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, September 30.—The number of interments from yellow fever during the twenty-four hours ending on Sunday morning was sixty-one; for the twenty-four hours ending this morning, sixty-seven.

Lines Down---No Cable News.

NEW YORK, October 1, 1 A. M.—The Newfoundland lines were down all day yesterday, and have not yet resumed operations.

CITY MATTERS.

TRAVEL IMPEDED.—Yesterday afternoon, a wagon, heavily ladened with iron, and drawn by four horses, broke down on Penn street near Hand. The wagon fell directly across the track of the Citizens' Passenger Railway, and impeded travel on the road for half an hour, until the wreck could be removed.

BOLD HOUSE ROBBERY.—On Saturday afternoon some thief or thieves entered the dwelling of C. H. Marlege, on Monterey street, Second ward, Allegheny, while the inmates were engaged making apple butter in the yard in the rear of the house, and ransacked it thoroughly, examining every trunk and drawer and carrying off about forty dollars worth of jewelry. There is no clue to the robbers.

INDECENT ASSAULT.—A man named Nicholas Smay, a carpenter, aged about thirty-two years, who boarded at the house of Mrs. Walters, on Penn street, in the Ninth ward, committed an indecent assault last evening, upon the person of his landlady's daughter, a child ten years old. He was detected in the act, when he was arrested by Alderman James Irwin, assisted by deputy constable George Harvey, and committed to jail, in default of $5,000 bail for a hearing on Wednesday.

THE WOOD AND FIFTH STREET SEWERS.—The business men of Wood street, between Water and Fifth, complain of having experienced unnecessary interruption in consequence of the delay in removing the earth taken from the excavation for the sewer. It is charged that the contractor allowed the earth to remain a much longer time than was necessary, to the serious interruption of business. Now that Fifth street is being excavated for the sewer, it is to be hoped that the contractor will use all due diligence, and not suffer the thoroughfare to be obstructed a moment longer than is absolutely necessary.

SCHOOL OF DESIGN.—On Monday evening next an evening class for drawing will be opened at the School of Design, Phelan's Building, 24 Fifth street, for students who may desire to become lithographers, engravers, mechanics, artizans, and all ladies and gentlemen who may want instruction in drawing. Experienced and skillful teachers will impart tuition, and every attention will be paid to insure proficiency in the pupils. The School of Design is one of the institutions in our midst that deserves the encouragement of every citizen, and we are glad to hear it is prospering.

MINER'S PATENT STREET LAMP.—Mr. Myers, one of the agents, yesterday placed on the gas post, corner of Fifth and Smithfield streets, one of J. G. Miner's patent street lamps, which is a vast improvement on the old, unsightly lamps now generally used. The lamp is a glass bowl, perforated at the bottom, through which the burner is inserted; the bowl is held in its place by a cast iron rim attached to an ornamented cover, supported by four curved rods, which are affixed to a metal ring that fits the post. It is simple, neat and durable, is not so liable to get out of repair, and is more easily cleaned than the ordinary lamp. The cover not only protects the glass but also acts as a reflector. Besides diffusing a better light, the lamp is more ornamental than those in use, and as they can be put up at less cost, they will doubtless commend themselves to the city authorities for adoption here.

The Opera.

The sale of seats at Mellor's yesterday was quite large, and the indications are that the grand operatic entertainments of Madame La Grange, Brignoli and their accomplished assistants, at the Academy of Music, on to-morrow and Thursday nights, will be attended by large and fashionable audiences. To-morrow evening, the opera of "The Barber of Seville" will be given, and on Thursday "Don Pasquale." Seats may be secured to-day and to-morrow.

Republican Executive Committee--Meetings Appointed.

The Union Republican Executive Committee of Allegheny county held a meeting yesterday afternoon, at the office of C. C. Taylor, Esq., on Grant street. In the absence of the Chairman, Col. Alex. Hilands presided. In addition to the meetings already announced, meetings were appointed to be held at the following places during the coming week:

Friday evening—At Manchester, on the corner of Locust street and Beaver avenue. Addresses by Hon. S. A. Purviance, Col. Thomas M. Bayne and Major A. M. Brown.

Same evening—In East Liberty, at the Johnson House. Addresses by Hon. P. C. Shannon, Hon. John P. Penney and Thos. M. Marshall, Esq.

Same evening—At Elizabeth. Addresses by Thomas Howard, Esq., and Captain J. F. Slagle.

Saturday Evening—In Allegheny, at Col. George Gerst's, in the Third ward. Addresses by Thomas M. Marshall, Wm. C. Moreland and H. P. Mueller, Esqs.

Same Evening—In Robinson township, at Wycoff's House. Addresses by Capt. J. F. Slagle and Thos. Howard, Esq.

The Committee on Speakers were instructed to telegraph to the State Central Committee, to secure speakers from abroad for a mass meeting to be held in this city on Friday evening next.

After the transaction of some business of a private and unimportant nature, the Committee adjourned until this afternoon.

The State Fair.

The exhibitions of State and County Fairs are, doubtless, exerting a wholesome influence upon the manufacturing and agricultural interests of the country. They have a tendency to encourage progress, develop enterprise in every department, and stimulate those who are accustomed to follow the beaten track of their fathers, by showing easier methods for accomplishing the same ends. These fairs are a sort of annual reunion, for the purpose of comparing notes as to the progress made in art, mechanism, horticulture and agriculture—what new labor saving machines have been invented; what improvements have been made on old implements; what has been the success attending important experiments affecting the cultivation of the soil and the raising of stock; in a word, what has been done in the past one year to advance the great industrial interests of the State and nation. These are some of the objects sought to be gained by agricultural exhibitions, and in so far as they are held with these purposes in view, they ought to be encouraged and supported. The State Fair, just closed in this city, was not productive of that amount of good which might and should have resulted legitimately from it. As a State exhibition it was, in plain terms, a failure. We have had county fairs which exceeded it in extent and importance, and gave a greater degree of satisfaction to visitors. The fault, however, was not with the managers but with the people of the State generally, and especially with those of the Western counties. The last State Fair, held at Easton, was incomparably better and it was considerably expected that the people of the western end of the State, and those of Allegheny county especially, would have made this the grandest exhibition ever held by the Society. We do not pretend to assign any special reason for the failure, but we incline to the opinion that our farmers and manufacturers depended too largely upon the exertions likely to be made outside of this county. Unless more liberal contributions are made to these exhibitions in the future, they might as well be abandoned. There is a disposition, even now, to regard them with disfavor, and nothing but active support and energetic management will save them from falling into utter neglect. The attendance at the late fair was quite large, and the receipts have been estimated at over $29,000. The expenditures are unusually heavy, and the number and magnitude of the bills now showering in upon the Treasurer render it uncertain whether the exhibition will prove a financial success or not.

THE CAMPAIGN.

Mass Meeting of the Citizens of the Sixth, Seventh and Eighth Wards of this City.

Enthusiastic Meetings in Allegheny City and Mansfield.

Speeches by General Joshua T. Owen, Hon. P. C. Shannon, W. C. Moreland, Major A. M. Brown, General A. L. Pearson, H. C. Mackrell, Hon. John P. Penney, Major Russell Errett and Others.

The citizens of the Sixth, Seventh and Eighth wards held a large and enthusiastic mass meeting at the corner of Wylie and Fulton streets last evening. A large crowd was in attendance, and manifested their appreciation of the argument of the speakers by frequent applause.

The following officers were elected:

President—A. M. Brown.

Vice Presidents—John Floyd, Henry Cochran, V. G. Elliott, James Fleming, Jos. A. Butler, John Barr, Wm. Stoner, Jr., David McKnight, James Little, James Mawhinney, E. S. Morrow, George Hamilton, Max. K. Moorhead, W. H. Glenn, James Robb, Wm. B. Hays, Robert Robb, Wm. K. Hart, Wm. Freeman, J. M. Brush.

Secretaries—N. Coursin, N. B. Reed, John C. Harper, T. J. Everett, Frank Case and Otis B. Childs.

The President on taking the Chair, made a brief speech, speaking in complimentary terms of General Joshua T. Owen, of Philadelphia, who he would introduce to them.

SPEECH OF GEN. OWEN

Fellow Citizens of Pittsburgh—I appear before you this evening somewhat unexpectedly. After traveling through some of the counties of the State, I find myself in the midst of those who are here as the representatives of the industry and intelligence and wealth of the State of Pennsylvania, for I do not know of any other city within the length and breadth of our old Commonwealth where are gathered together so many of those, who, with their lusty arms, constitute the wealth of the country. I do not profess to understand your local politics, or the differences which may exist among you, but I do know, and to this point I intend to direct my attention, that the Republican party had the power to protect the interests of all classes of people. The laboring classes of this country are to be treated as the foundation of the national power, and to prove that the sympathies of the Republicans are with them, and that this party is ready to make, and carry out if necessary, whatever laws are necessary to their equal laws. It is only necessary to say that it in the face of opposition which was presented on every side, assumed the high duty to say that the colored men in the South, whose labor was brought in to improper competition with the labor of the North, should be free. I shall not touch to any extent upon that question, you will settle it among yourselves, I trust wisely, loyally and patriotically so long as our institutions remain as they are now, the laboring men will be the sovereigns of the nation, and will control the destinies of this country. [Applause.] I would urge upon you the importance of this election, and that it shall be made to harmonize with the policy of the Republican party which has been pursued since the inauguration of the great rebellion. I take it for granted that all of you will appreciate the fact that it is improper to change the policy of the Government. That would be the height of weakness for us to say that all our sacrifices of blood and treasure were made in vain. If we contend that our war was a just one in behalf the Constitution and Government, then I take it for granted that these men and this party should be entitled to your confidence until they finish the work they have so patriotically begun. Whatever arguments there may be, this great overshadowing question brings you to this issue. In the presentation of Hon. Henry W. Williams as a candidate for the Supreme Court, I trust your county of Allegheny will speak as she has spoken heretofore; I trust that the old Keystone State has determined that those slain in battle shall not die in vain, and pass away from the minds of the people, but that their works shall be made glorious by such a vindication of the powers and authorities of the Government, that Americans abroad and at home shall lift up their hands and thank God that this war has worked out our salvation for us. [Cheers.] If you would have the people of all sections of the country obey one common law, and labor to maintain a loyal government—if you would do this—then give your old majority, and increase it. If Judge Williams receives as large a majority as your former Gov. Andrew G. Curtin, I tell you reconstruction will be perfected in less than six months.

The speaker said he had just visited the town of Gettysburg and could bring good news from the East. He concluded with an eloquent appeal to his hearers to sustain the principles for which they fought.

At the close of his address he was loudly cheered.

SPEECH OF JUDGE SHANNON.

Judge Shannon was then called for and made a lengthy and powerful speech, condemning in strong terms the course of the Democratic party, which, animated by such men as Jeremiah S. Black, would destroy the country. The speaker was frequently cheered.

SPEECH OF MR. MORELAND.

W. C. Moreland, Esq., was introduced and said he was glad at any time, and under any circumstances to see so many of his friends, but to meet them on the eve of an important election involving the interests of the Commonwealth, and the interests of the country, was to him exceedingly gratifying. There were before him more Republican men than the Democratic party could marshal in all the wards of the city excluding the Third ward. [Laughter.] The previous speaker had directed their attention to the political questions, and he would only speak principally of the candidates for Supreme Judge. Judge Williams, the Republican candidate, was one of the ablest and finest jurists in the Commonwealth, in the discussion of the question of individual merit perhaps stood on the same plane, but politically they were not to be compared. The article written by David Paul Brown, and published in one of the city papers, was not true. David Paul Brown had never tried a case at the Pittsburgh Bar, and was one of the greatest fops at the Philadelphia Bar. David Paul Brown had no right from experience to speak as he did of Judge Williams. The speaker concluded by paying a handsome compliment to Judge Williams, and urging on his hearers the importance of supporting the Republican ticket and voting on principles. He was frequently cheered.

SPEECH OF MAJ. A. M. BROWN.

Major A. M. Brown was then loudly called for and made a brief speech on the importance of the election. Alleged Johnson men had issued a call, and the names signed to that call were those of Democrats. This was simply an electioneering scheme. In reference to the labor party, the speaker said there were some who thought that all the laboring men in the country were on the labor party ticket. All that was loyal and true in the country belonged to the Union party. Capital did not rule the country and never had, and any man who did, insulted the American people.

At the close of Mr. Brown's address, the meeting adjourned.

Enthusiastic Meeting in Allegheny---Speeches by Gen. A. L. Pearson, H. C. Mackrell, Esq., Gen. Joshua T. Owen and Hon. J. P. Penney.

Quite a large and enthusiastic meeting of Republican voters was held last evening in front of the Hope Engine House, on Martin street, in the First ward, Allegheny. The meeting was called to order at half-past seven o'clock by Chas. H. Cutler, Esq., upon whose motion the following officers were elected to preside:

President—John F. Jennings, Esq.

Vice Presidents—Joseph Walton, A. George, A. D. Smith, Gen. Charles Barnes, John B. Ingham, John Aiken, Edward Gregg, Stephen Mercer, John A. Scott, Robert Young, Joseph Fleming, O. O. Phillips, Brady Wilkins, A. S. Bell, James Gregg and Ebenezer Wicks.

Secretaries—W. C. Stockton, C. F. Ingram and the reporters of the press.

Mr. Jennings, on taking the stand, thanked the meeting for the honor conferred upon him, and then introduced Gen. A. L. Pearson, who was received with cheers.

GEN. A. L. PEARSON.

General Pearson then took the stand and entertained the meeting in a speech of considerable length. The speaker spoke in severe terms of Andrew Johnson and his tyrannical rule. If Pennsylvania and New York should go Democratic this Fall, we may look for another rebellion in this land. He believed that if the elections in the North go Democratic, the programme of the President would be to prevent the meeting of the next Congress, to oust General Grant from his position, and declare himself dictator. The speaker then turned his attention to the election about to take place in our own State. He spoke quite severely of a certain sheet in this city, which, by its slanderous articles, is endeavoring to secure the defeat of some of the candidates on the Republican ticket. In regard to the Workingmen's ticket placed in nomination in this county, the speaker considered it a trick of Democratic politicians. He was in favor of giving the workingmen all their rights, but he thought the present movement was an injudicious one. Some clamored about the doings of the last Representatives from this county against the workingmen. None of those men, with but one exception, have been renominated this year, so they cannot have any objection to the present ticket in that respect. Most of the candidates on the Republican ticket are hard working men, and they will not act against the interests of a class to which they belong. The speaker called upon every working man to stand by the Republican ticket, and particularly by our nominee for Supreme Judge—Hon. Henry W. Williams. The General thanked the meeting for their attention and retired amid cheers.

H. C. MACKRELL, ESQ.

H. C. Mackrell, Esq., was next introduced to the meeting, and spoke principally of the standing of the two candidates for the Supreme Bench in this State. The Democrats in the Legislature never voted a dollar to the war when the country was most in need of it, and refused to vote for resolutions of thanks to our brave soldiers for their efforts in subduing the rebellion. Sharswood declared that greenbacks were unconstitutional when our country had exhausted its specie and had nothing else with which to carry on the war. If Sharswood was elected to the Supreme Bench and our country placed in the position it was during the late rebellion, he would perhaps again declare that paper money was not legal tender, and endeavor to depreciate the bonds of the nation. The friends of Sharswood say that he is an able jurist and a Christian man. Some say this of Jeff. Davis. Of Judge Williams, not a word can be said against him by any man. He is noted for his honesty, uprightness and Christian-like manner, and there is not a more able jurist in the State. He also has that which is the pride of every lover of his country—a true, patriotic heart. We want a man on the Supreme Bench whose heart beats in unison with the Union, for we do not know what position our country may be placed in within the next fifteen years, and how soon it will need his services. The speaker concluded by calling upon every Republican to vote for Judge Williams and the whole Union ticket.

GEN. J. T. OWEN.

General Joshua T. Owen, of Philadelphia, who was chairman of the State Soldiers' Convention which was held in this city last Fall, was then introduced and was received with hearty cheers. He congratulated his friends in Allegheny county on the bright prospects of the approaching canvass. He said that he had been in several of the middle and eastern counties of the State, and that the loyal people were alive to the issue. That sudden darkness and indifference which seemed to be hanging over them two or three weeks ago had disappeared, and bright prospects of a glorious Republican victory seemed to have risen in its stead. The Eastern part of the State will give her usual Republican majority, and the people there look anxiously to see what "old Allegheny" will do. The speaker had been informed that a side issue had been brought up here this campaign, which would likely weaken the Republican vote on the county ticket, but was glad to know that it would not affect the majority for Judge Williams. The soldiers in the middle and eastern section of the State will still vote as they fought. If our Union boys were able to cope with the rebels in the field, they are equally able to cope with them and their allies in civil life, and show them what our rights are. The rebels chose their field and battle ground. We met them, fought them and won, and we should now reap the fruits of the victory. We have whipped them, and they must now bow down to us; they must come back as we dictate, and abide by the laws we make for them. Our Government is a strong Government, because the people have it in their hearts and wills of the people it has its strength in the hearts and wills of the people. The speaker called upon you, loyal men of Pennsylvania, to give your aid in a rebuke of the party who brought on this war. The speaker hoped that on the night of the 8th of October, when the day of Allegheny was over, the news received from old Allegheny would be that she still stands where she has heretofore stood, giving her ten thousand Republican majority. After thanking the meeting for their kind attention, the General retired and was given three hearty cheers.

HON. J. P. PENNEY.

Hon. John P. Penney next took the stand and delivered a short but effective speech. He said that General Owen had asked us what report he should have from "Old Allegheny" on next Tuesday. The speaker said that we shall give the same report as on the breaking out of the war, when Allegheny county sent forth her thousands of loyal sons to the field, and on next election day we shall send to the East the news of Allegheny's ten thousand majority for the Union cause. When the late war broke out we had no idea of the great work before us then. So it is with us now. In the coming canvass we are to contend with a powerful foe. This viper of a Copperhead is not dead yet, but we expect to add another blow on Tuesday next which will culminate in its death. During the war, while the speaker was in the Senate of Pennsylvania, a resolution was offered inviting Andrew Johnson to speak on the floor of the Legislature. Johnson was at that time considered a loyal, true-hearted men. The resolution was defeated, every Democrat in the Legislature voting against it. Since then, Johnson has proved a traitor to the party who elected him, and those who then opposed his speaking in the Pennsylvania Legislature, now clamor around him and are his best friends. Andrew Johnson, after declaring in the United States Senate, that "treason should be made odious," is now the first one to take by the hand these rebels, whose hands are dripping with the blood of our brave soldiers, and would even grant them a seat in Congress and place them among the rulers of the nation. The speaker warned loyal men if they did not fight this demagogue, Johnson, and his coadjutors with ballots, this fall, they would be compelled to fight them with the bayonet. The speaker concluded his speech by urging every Republican to be at the polls on Tuesday next and cast his vote for Judge Williams and the entire ticket.

At the conclusion of Mr. Penney's speech, the meeting adjourned.

Grand Rally at Mansfield---Speeches of Thos. Howard, R. A. Cameron, H. H. McCormick and Russell Errett.

A grand Republican rally was held last evening, at the School House at Mansfield, Robinson township. The meeting was a very large one, and the School House was filled to overflowing. Among those present were a large number of workingmen.

Thomas Howard, Esq., was first introduced and made a speech of about three-quarters of an hour's duration. He reviewed the record of the Democratic party during the past eight years, and charged them with being the sole instigator of the late rebellion.

R. A. Cameron, Esq., was next called upon and spoke for about half an hour on the general issues of the day, reviewing the tyrannical rule of Andrew Johnson, comparing the standing of the two candidates for the Supreme Judgeship, and urging every man to support Judge Williams and the entire Union ticket.

H. H. McCormick, Esq., was the next speaker. He spoke principally on the Workingmen's movement in this county, and charged it with being a copperhead trick, for the ostensible purpose of weakening the Republican ranks and to secure the success, if possible, of the Democratic ticket.

Major Russell Errett was called upon and delivered a short speech. In answer to a question he expressed himself as heartily in favor of a Free Railroad Law and opposed to all monopolies. He was in favor of giving the Pennsylvania Railroad all their just demands, but anything beyond that he was opposed to.

At the conclusion of Mr. Errett's speech, the meeting adjourned.

MEETING AT NEW TEXAS.

A Republican mass meeting will be held in New Texas, Plum township, this evening. There is every indication of a splendid meeting. The following speakers will deliver addresses: Hon. J. P. Penney, Wm. C. Moreland, John H. Kerr and R. A. Cameron, Esqs.

LABOR MEETING.

A Workingmen's meeting was held at the Stone Tavern, at Saw Mill Run, on Saturday evening, which was presided over by A. Winters. Speeches were made by A. Jaquay, Matthew Haldock, G. Archibald and Benjamin White, and resolutions adopted indorsing the platform of the Labor Party.

Public Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—The new play, entitled "Nobody's Daughter," dramatized from Miss Braddon's novel "Diavola," was performed last night to a fashionable audience. The dramatist has very skilfully performed his work, and has preserved all the striking points of the novel both in dialogue and situations. It is an exciting drama, in many respects superior to "Lady Audley's Secret," which it somewhat resembles in plot. Miss Ida Vernon made her first appearance on this stage in the triple character of "Jenny Milsom, Lady Eversleigh and Miss Brown," and impressed her audience very favorably. She has a good voice, fine stage-presence, and handsome face, which, added to a fair degree of histrionic ability, made her quite a favorite with the audience. The new play is cast to the full strength of the company, and all acquitted themselves creditably. "Nobody's Daughter" will be repeated to-night.

THE MINSTRELS, at the old Theatre, continue to draw large audiences. So excellent a company, in all its features, has not visited Pittsburgh for many years. Admirable singing, fine instrumental performances, and the most mirth-provoking comic acts of George Christy, all combine to make a most enjoyable entertainment. They perform again to-night.

IT is worthy of note that Messrs. S. D. & H. W. Smith, of Boston, manufacturers of the AMERICAN ORGANS, have been most successful in the sale of their instruments in those localities where special exertions have been made by certain manufacturers who have had the arrogance and deception to claim every improvement in reed instruments as their own, which were in operation even before they existed in the business. Never have the AMERICAN ORGANS been so popular, and the sales so large as at the present time. We have tested these instruments for a long time, and find them in every respect the most satisfactory and perfect which we have ever used, and we have had particular experience in the use of those organs which in the public prints claim the greatest celebrity.—*Vt. The Daily Commercial

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1867.

THE COMMERCIAL is the largest daily paper in the State, and gives daily one-fourth more reading than any other paper in Pittsburgh. It is the only Pittsburgh paper that uses the telegraph liberally, gives full market reports, and all the news of the day.

OUR CANDIDATE.

Hon. Henry W. Williams.

[From the Pittsburgh Post, June 28.]

WORTHY CANDIDATES.

"The nomination of Henry W. Williams as a candidate for Judge of the Suprema Court, is a good one. He was the best man named before the Republican Convention, and possesses legal and moral qualifications for the responsible position to which he has been nominated. Both parties have now presented their candidates. An important duty has been faithfully discharged by the respective conventions. The campaign may now be conducted without personal aspersions, and decided upon the principles of the two great parties. This is as it should be."

[From the Pittsburgh Post, August 29.]

If the notice of Judge Williams's nomination which appeared in the "Post" at the time, and now kept standing at the head of the Republican papers, is intended as a rebuke for any supposed inconsistency since, it fails in its purpose. We have nothing to take back or modify. Of Judge Williams's private or legal reputation we have nothing but words of praise, and however it may suit some pugnacious and heady politicians, we cannot bring ourselves to view personal assaults as either wise or politic. The Democracy plants itself upon principle and deals with facts, and discusses the public and official acts of candidates.

THE HON. THADDEUS STEVENS is better, and it is confidently expected that, if he continues to improve as rapidly as he has of late, he will be at his post when Congress meets.

THE Democratic County Convention took an early opportunity to "set the tune" for the campaign. It has been harped upon ever since. But we do not hear of any Republicans dancing into the Democratic ranks under its inspiring influence. The only hope—a most forlorn one, if it was a hope at all—was grounded on the supposed fickleness of the people, and the idea that Republican Union men would join the effete Democratic party, apparently for no better reason than that they were tired of beating it in the elections of past years. The performance, we imagine, will not bring in enough to pay the piper. Union men are not of the sort to be captured by so poor a trick, nor do they feel much complimented by Democratic calculations based upon their fickleness. It is not probable that the illusions of our Democratic friends will be entirely dispelled, till a week from to-day. They had better defer their count of turn-coats till after that date—Tuesday, October 8th—when their figuring will be in very small numbers. In the meantime the Republican prospects are bright and brightening for a complete and old-fashioned victory.

WHAT MR. DAVID PAUL BROWN WANTS.

DAVID PAUL BROWN, who claims to be a good Republican, takes a very odd way to prove it. In a lengthy argument on the old time debate, "principles versus men," he takes the position, practically, that it is of more importance to elect a man who he declares is best qualified, to the bench of the Supreme Court, than to look to the platform of which he is the representative. Now, is it best for the Republicans of Pennsylvania to accept Mr. DAVID PAUL BROWN's statement that the Democratic nominee surpasses in qualifications the Republican nominee, or had they better elect the man who is the embodiment of the principles of the great Republican party, Judge WILLIAMS? Is it advisable for Republicans to elect a Democrat, and so indorse the Democratic principles, because this man who "is a Republican, and always has been," tells them that he intends voting for the Democratic nominee, although he does not indorse the Democratic platform? How can he divide the result if success should be gained by the Democrats, and will they not, in all the loyal States, claim a great victory for their principles as well as their candidate? What does Mr. DAVID PAUL BROWN want the Republicans of Pennsylvania to do? He wants them to show their Republicanism by voting for a Democrat. He wants them to believe that Judge SHARSWOOD is the superior of Judge WILLIAMS, because he, DAVID PAUL BROWN, believes it. He wants them to say, in effect, by their votes, that it is not the principles that they have to deal with, but the men. He wants the Republicans of Pennsylvania to vote for a Democrat, when every intelligent man, of either party, knows that if successful, the result would be considered a triumph by Andrew Johnson.

This is asking too much of Pennsylvanians who were insulted through their Governor, not a fortnight since, by this same ANDREW JOHNSON, on the battle-field of Antietam. "In their moral and political faith," they cannot believe such a course would be right; or that their duty would be performed in virtually supporting principles they detest and abhor. "With the "men who are candidates, when their per-"sonal integrity is unimpeached, and their "fame fair, (and Mr. DAVID PAUL BROWN makes no insinuations against Judge WILLIAMS's uprightness), the Republi-"cans have nothing to do—they are noth-"ing—the mere lay figures, so to speak, of "the moment—a breath can make them, "and a breath unmake—it is with the prin-"ciples they represent that the voters have "to do," and in the exercise of this privilege say which shall triumph. Shall we indorse the party of CLYMER, COWAN, WOODWARD and ANDREW JOHNSON, or the principles of the great Republican party that elected ABRAHAM LINCOLN twice and carried through the late war?

CALLING NAMES.

The large proportion of the Democratic press, which carries on its political warfare, not by argument, but by slang, bluster and calling names, is singularly unfortunate in the epithets it applies to the Republican party. The three principal names it employs to excite the animosity of a low and large class against the Republican party, are all very appropriately borrowed from British usage.

The name Yankee is purely of British invention, applied first to the patriots of the Revolution of 1776. It was brought largely into vogue among the rebels during our late war to designate all who supported the Union. And with this British parentage and rebel adoption, it has come to be a favorite term of reproach for all patriots and Union men, in the language of the lower stratum of the Democratic press. The same may be said, substantially, of the name Jacobin, which, we must inform those Democratic writers and speakers who need the information, was the name of the most democratic party or society of the French during their great revolution. The name of the party was "The Society of Lovers of the Constitution," afterwards changed to the "Friends of Liberty and Equality." It was called Jacobin from a Roman Catholic convent in which they held their meetings. It was very odious to the Bourbons and the British, and the name was used as a term of reproach among them. The bogus Democracy, sympathizing with British prejudices against true Republicanism, naturally adopt the epithet and apply it in the same way. The name Puritan, as we have formerly shown, is also a term of reproach, inherited from the British aristocracy. It was applied to the party in England which was opposed to royalty, and which, according to HUME and other historians, was offensive because of its strong democratic principles and tendencies.

These names, honorable in political history, may be as good terms of reproach as any others, among people that know no better. But we should advise writers for the press, and speakers for the public ear, to abstain altogether from historic epithets and allusions, if they cannot hit better in their selection. As we have succeeded in eliminating from the Post its old favorite word Puritan, we commend to its notice, next, lesson number two, on the epithets Yankee and Jacobin. Its safest mode of objurgation would be, to call the Republican party hydrostatic, or parallelogram, or something of the sort. It would answer just as well, and betray no ignorance of history.

THE PRESIDENT'S INTENTIONS.

A week ago the telegraph chronicled the personal fact that Gen. HALPINE had an interview of considerable length with ANDREW JOHNSON. The product thereof is to be found in the last number of the New York Citizen, in the shape of a letter from the General. In it the writer labors hard to make it appear how great a patriot ANDREW JOHNSON is, and what miserable creatures Congress collectively is—at least how unpatriotic its action has been. He predicts its plan of reconstruction will fail, and in the course of his letter throws out a suggestion, which, considering that it is avowedly the inspiration of the President, possesses no little significance. After the Southern States have framed their Constitutions, they are to be sent to the President for transmission to Congress. "But," says Gen. HALPINE, repeating ANDREW JOHNSON's words, "suppose the Executive "should not trasmit them, but send them "back or pigeon-hole them, as is clearly with-"in his power? What then?" The suggestion put in practice would constitute an act quite in the spirit lately manifested by Mr. JOHNSON, in his determination to thwart Congress and prevent reconstruction according to its policy, for which he would deserve to be impeached. The circumstances under which this suggestion is thrown out entitle it to be held in recollection. Especially is this so taken in connection with the following portion of the letter:

> "Let the great commercial and intelligent central States of New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio perform but one half the duty they owe to the country and to their own true interests in the approaching State elections—and the hands of the President will be strengthened for active efforts of affirmative usefulness. He will cease to be altogether on the defensive, as he has pretty continually been kept since his accession to power. The more violent radicals in Congress—as cowardly as they are malignant, for the cruel are always cowardly—will 'roost lower in the political tree' before the rebuke of three such important States as Pennsylvania, Ohio and New York; and by the indorsement of his policy to be thus indirectly, but yet emphatically obtained, the hands of President Johnson will be strengthened; he will be released from the paralyzing necessity of continual defense and resistance; and will soon be enabled to take the field against the further domination of the Puritan-cum-Negro, at the head of a vast and irresistable army of loyal and conservative citizens, having the Constitution inscribed upon their banners, the principles of the Constitution in their hearts, and the Constitution for the battle-cry with which they will advance to a victory that must give us back a restored country—every State in its proper place, every star in its due section of our banner, every citizen protected in his rights, and our National Treasury on the high road to a speedy and full liquidation of the last dollar it owes."

The reader will be inclined to ask, what is it that Mr. JOHNSON is going to do, if certain States go Democratic, that he will not do if they go Republican? Let them go whichever way they will, his duty will remain the same. No new power, not a single additional right, will be conferred on him. And the inference is inevitable that it is the settled purpose of Mr. JOHNSON, in case these States go Democratic, to play the usurper and attempt forcible resistance to Congress. Stripped of its drapery, this is just what is meant by the above. It is what Mr. JOHNSON told Gen. HALPINE he will do, in a certain contingency. Of this there is no doubt, for the General concludes his letter by declaring that "the "foregoing views are given, let it be added "in conclusion, not as quite fully repre-"senting the personal convictions of the "writer—though in many of them he may "agree; but as views of a very striking and "suggestive character which may be found "avowed and now actively advocated here "in the very highest circles of Conserva-"tive politics," that is, by the President himself.

WHY NOT?

A book, it is said, is about to make its appearance, apologetic, if not approbatory, of JUDAS ISCARIOT. We are not informed particularly of its character, whether it restricts its scope to the personal history of the individual named, or embraces treachery in general, so as to include other individuals, who have figured in the political arena. If the latter, we predict for it a welcome reception by a large class of persons in our unfortunate country and times. In no other period or place have betrayers greedy of gain and stained with innocent blood, been found in larger numbers, as the great secession movement and its consequent war emphatically prove.

If there be a worse character, politically considered, than the original traitors, it is that of those who apologize for them, and who, to give them success as to their main design, come to their aid in politics after they have been beaten in arms. We can scarcely imagine that a book which would whitewash the character of JUDAS, could fail to embody principles highly comforting to JEFFERSON DAVIS and his associates. It must, therefore, be eagerly expected by those who are co-operating with the defeated secessionists, in the field of politics. They should, by all means, bring it out as a campaign document in 1868. We could suggest a very suitable "individual" to give it an introductory preface.

Weed on the Blairs.

Mr. Weed is vindicating his reputation for being a good hater. The latest proof of this kind is the following on "the Blairs:"

> "If 'Old Blair' had lived in the days of our first parents, the presence of the Serpent would have been superfluous. If at a later period, he had been 'one of the twelve,' there would have been no question into whose pocket the 'thirty pieces' dropped.
>
> "His 'Cub,' Montgomery, is a nuisance. As a politician he is 'in everybody's mess, and in nobody's watch.' He is a common scold, but so impotent, that nobody cares for his slanders. He exhausted the patience even of Mr. Lincoln, who was finally compelled to ask for his resignation.
> "If President Johnson should be 'impeached,' it will be for listening to such miserable malignants, who are reputed to surround him. We never felt that he was safe after seeing old Blair and his Cub lurking about the White House."

CHARLES P. STONE, once a General of the Union army, and who was suddenly arrested and for a long time, and under circumstances of great mystery, imprisoned without trial or even charges being brought against him, has written a letter, correcting the report that he sued for mercy at the hands of Senator Sumner. In that letter he gives the only letter he ever wrote to that Senator, which is as follows:

> "POOLESVILLE, MD., }
> "December 23, 1861. }
>
> "Hon. Charles Sumner, U. S. Senate:
>
> "SIR—If the National Intelligencer newspaper of the —th inst. quotes you correctly, you have uttered, on the floor of the Senate, a falsehood and a slander.
>
> "Permit me to thank you for the speech in which you use my name. There can be no higher proof, in my opinion, that a soldier in the field is faithfully performing his duty, than the fact that while he is receiving the shot of the public enemy in front, he is receiving the vituperation of a well known coward from a safe distance in the rear.
>
> "Very respectfully,
> "Your obedient servant,
> "(Signed) CHAS. P. STONE."

Stone intimates that the writing of this letter was the fault for which he was so long and mysteriously imprisoned. He says the letter was written after he had found that Mr. Sumner was systematically writing letters to his subordinate officers, advising them to disobey orders with which his superiors found no fault. Of this he says he has the proof in his possession.

THE Harpers are about to commence the publication of a new weekly to be called Harper's Bazaar, a "Repository of Fashion, Pleasure and Instruction." As a fashion magazine it will be profusely illustrated with fashion plates. An arrangement has been made whereby Paris fashions, with illustrations, will be published in the Bazaar simultaneously with their appearance in the former city.

GENERAL SHERIDAN's progress through New Jersey was little less than triumphal. At Newark especially was his reception enthusiastic and participated in by the entire population. On reaching Jersey City he was taken in charge by a committee of New Yorkers and conducted quietly to his hotel. A public reception was given him yesterday.

THE Philadelphia Press says: "The grand uprising of the loyal masses of Philadelphia has never been equalled since the mighty movement commenced in April, 1861, after the rebel batteries opened on Fort Sumter. Now, as then, Copperheads turn pale at the majestic spectacle."

THE California papers come to us loaded with criminations and recriminations regarding the recent State elections. The San Francisco Bulletin and Sacramento Union both affirm that there is still a Republican majority of more than ten thousand in the State, and that the next Presidential election will show it.

IT seems to be pretty well settled that Davis will be tried at the November term in Richmond, and that Chief Justice Chase will preside. Judge Underwood and United States District Attorney Chandler have been in Washington, consulting Attorney General Stanbery in reference to the trial. They are both reported to be of opinion that a conviction can be secured, if the law be permitted to take its course without any interference from Washington.

Italy—The Pope—Napoleon.

The news from Italy has of late represented that country as in a confused condition. Garibaldi was threatening a revolution to make Rome the capital of Italy, with Victor Emanuel, of course, at its head. Yet Victor Emanuel issued a proclamation forbidding the movement, and Garibaldi was arrested, apparently by Victor Emanuel's order. This seemed to be inconsistent with the friendship known to subsist between them and their sympathy with each other, especially with reference to the making of Rome the capital. They are both equally the objects of the Pope's dislike—Garibaldi for his Italian patriotism and Victor Emanuel for his plan of secularising and utilising the church property in the Kingdom. The puzzle, as to the opposition between the King of Italy and his faithful friend of Caprera, is now solved, by the Pope's recent letter of thanks, not to Victor Emanuel, but to the French Emperor, for the arrest of Garibaldi. His hand thus appears in the business, and in accordance with it the ordering of French troops to Rome again for the protection of the Pope.

The complication gives rise to several questions. Will the French Emperor assume the entire quarrel of the Pope, both with the King of Italy, on the property question, and with the political party of Action in Rome, that owns the leadership of Garibaldi? Will the King of Italy submit to have his purpose of secularising the church property, in his own dominions, frustrated by the order of the Pope forbidding it? Will the Garibaldian party in Rome and Italy quietly surrender their hopes of liberty and a united Italy? In a word, will Italy, Rome, the King, and the party of Action all become the subjects of Napoleon? Events transpiring since the arrest of Garibaldi indicate no such intention. And, besides, what of Bismarck's reported offer of support and alliance in maintaining the independence of Italy?

IN the view of the Commercial Bulletin the condition of monetary affairs in Europe is favorable to the accumulation of foreign balances in this country, where the rate of interest ranges 2½@5 per cent. above that prevailing at the Europeon centers, while it equally tends to the maintenance of the value of the United States securities abroad. It is, however, unfavorable to the value of our cotton crops, for Liverpool will naturally hold the staple with caution while so much uncertainty overhangs the European markets. It is quite possible, however, that the fear of war may help to enhance the value of our breadstuffs. France is now a large buyer of grain, apparently from this motive; and the demand from that quarter has a considerable influence in sustaining the present high prices of breadstuffs.

THE Washington correspondent of the Charleston Courier says: A combination of great power and influence exists and will be brought to bear against the entire National Bank system. There are many reasons why the system should be preserved, though with some needed modifications. Unless its benefits, such as they are, should be equally distributed in the States, it will fail. The Treasury will propose modifications of the bank system at the coming session, which, if adopted, may save it.

A PARTY consisting of men, women and children, to the number of two hundred and fifty, will leave Boston the coming month to settle near Netawaka, on the Kickapoo Reservation, in Kansas, on the line of the Central Branch Union Pacific Railroad, and are made up of farmers and mechanics. They are to be thoroughly equipped with every thing necessary to successfully carry out New England ideas in the great West.

STATE ITEMS.

Ground has been broken for the erection of a monument to the dead of the 104th Pa. regiment, at Doylestown.

Jacob Zeigler, of the Butler Herald, has been appointed Revenue Inspector for the Nineteenth and Twentieth Districts of Pennsylvania, and the Thirty-first District of New York. The position is a lucrative one, and although the appointee is a Democrat, his numerous friends who regretted to hear of his late misfortunes will be gratified to hear now of his good fortune.

On Monday last the extensive Steam Flouring mill owned by Adam Ekas and James Keir, (formerly Larden's), in Clinton township, Butler county, was totally destroyed by fire. The dwelling house of Mr. Beighley, the miller, was also consumed and much of its contents. Loss $10,000; insurance, $2,600 in Hannahstown Company, Butler county.

A social reunion of all persons connected with the old Portage Railroad, in whatever capacity, will be held at the hotel of Mr. James Riffel, on the Summit, to-day, October 1st.

Mr. Martin Gates, of Duncanville, Blair county, was severely wounded in the chest during the late war. He came home and got well. The other day, he extracted a large brass button from the wound. The button, which was flattened, had been driven into his body by the bullet, and had remained there fully three years.

A young man named Phillip Allen, living near Mercer, accidentally shot himself on Monday last, the charge entering near his thigh, severing a large artery and causing his death in a few moments.

Lieutenant J. W. Norris, late of company C, 139th Pennsylvania Volunteers, died at Brady's Bend, on Friday, 20th ult., of consumption. He was a successful school teacher, and loved and honored by his pupils.

Tuesday, 17th ult., a little engine at the Brady's Bend Furnaces blew up, killing a young man, by the name of Adam Etzell, and severely injuring Andrew Watson and Thomas Harte. Mr. Watson is yet in a dangerous condition. The cause of the accident has not been positively ascertained.

The scaffolding around the new Episcopal Church at Brady's Bend, gave way on the 20th ult., precipitating three men to the ground, causing the death of one of them, Wm. Dickey, on the 24th.

Charles Backtrer, a returned soldier, was accidentally drowned in the Shenango pool, opposite Stewart's run, Lawrence county, on Wednesday last. He had waded into the pool after a duck, and got beyond his depth, when he sunk to rise no more.

The body of a Frenchman, as indicated by letters found in his possession, was found on the 21st ult., suspended on the limb of a tree on the farm of Mr. John Johnson, in North Strabane township, Washington county. He was aged about forty years.

The Johnstown Water Company have resolved to increase their capital stock to $140,000. Mr. Morrell, in behalf of the Cambria Iron Company, subscribing one half of the additional stock, and Dr. Lowman guaranteeing the subscription of $5,000 from parties in Philadelphia, leaving only $15,000 additional stock to be taken by the citizens.

A negro named John Brown made a brutal assault on Miss Elnora Filler, at Bedford, on Friday night last, although he was frustrated in his purpose by the courage of the young lady. She was returning home from a meeting of the Normal Literary Society, and was followed by the negro, who was drunk. The fiend seized her head with his left arm and clasped her throat with his right hand, preventing an outcry, and hurled her to the earth. She resisted his hellish purpose with all her strength; in the midst of the struggle the fiend drew his knife and threatened to cut her throat; fortunately the young lady, in her desperation, succeeded in wrenching it from him, and cutting his hand very severely. At this juncture, while pleading for her life, two young men passed within a few rods of where the outrage was being committed, whom, it is presumed, he overheard, and fled. Miss Filler's throat was terribly bruised and swollen, her face badly skinned, and her hand cut. Otherwise she escaped uninjured. Brown has not been arrested up to the present writing, though it is not possible that he will escape.

THE CHOLERA.

IMPORTANT LETTER FROM

Dr. JAS. D. BUTTON,

PHYSICIAN TO THE N. Y. STATE PRISON, AT AUBURN, N. Y.

AUBURN, September 27, 1856.

DEAR SIR—Your letter of the 18th inst., asking what my experience had been in the use of

Fosgate's Anodyne Cordial,

in the Premonitory Diarrhœa of Asiatic Cholera, came duly to hand.

In reply, I am pleased to say, that having used the article more or less for thirty years, in my own family and in my practice, thus testing its virtues, I administered it freely when Cholera appeared, for the Diarrhœa which almost always precedes that disease. In the year 1849, the disease breaking out suddenly in my locality, a few cases terminated fatally within several hours after the attack, and this preceding diarrhœa was then almost universal. But, under my observation, no one remedy was more effective in completely controlling it than this nor, within my knowledge, when other precautions were observed, did it fail.

Respectfully, yours,
(Signed) J. D. BUTTON, D. D.

AUCTION SALES.

ELEGANT MANSION & GROUNDS

AND

FINE SUBURBAN SITES,

IN LIBERTY TOWNSHIP.

TUESDAY EVENING, Oct. 1st,

AT EIGHT O'CLOCK,

Will be sold on Second floor of Commercial Sales Rooms, 106 Smithfield street, that magnificent suburban seat in Liberty township, on Pennsylvania avenue, occupied by Edward Rahm, Esq., comprising 13 Acres and 20 Perches, under best ornamental cultivation, with fine avenue leading from the public road; the grounds improved with beautifully laid out walks, a delightful grove of forest trees, and well supplied with never failing springs of pure water. The Mansion is very commodious, and of elegant modern style, wide halls and grand stairway, rooms and halls finished in most superb manner, with heavy stucco cornices, marble mantels, &c., warmed also by heating furnace, gas and hot and cold water throughout. This model mansion is finished all through in the most superior manner, comprising every elegance, comfort and convenience, and all in the best order. Its tower commands an extensive and magnificent view of the East Liberty valley. The supply of water comes from an enclosed, stone-built reservoir for the springs, conveying it to the upper story. The outbuildings are of a tasteful and complete character, all substantially built of brick and stone, embracing a very commodious and well finished barn, stable and tenant house in one; wash house, drying house, and coal house in one; green house, grapery, fruit house, ice and cooling house, chicken and lumber house, &c. The completeness and elegance of all these improvements are equal to any in the country.

Also, 6 acres 39 perches, sub-divided from rear of the homestead, and fronting on Squirrel Hill Road, a short distance from Pennsylvania avenue, with fine orchard of every variety of the choicest fruits, a large and excellent vineyard, kitchen garden, &c.

Also, 8 acres 118 perches in rear of above, and fronting on Squirrel Hill Road, with excellent spring of water.

Those wishing are invited to view the premises. The plan can be seen at the auction rooms.

Terms of Sale—One-third cash; balance in three equal annual payments, with interest.

ONWARD, RIGHT ONWARD, Into the valley of death, Rode the six hundred, But larger, by hundreds multiplied into millions, than the doomed band who rode to swift destruction in Tennyson's poem, is the great cavalcade of unhappy beings who are riding into misery, worse than death, hugging that fearful disease FEVER AND AGUE, when by the use of MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS They might, each one, be forever relieved from it, and their physical organization become thoroughly improved by means of a purified blood and healthy condition of the stomach. The legitimate result of using Mishler's Celebrated Herb Bitters, is to ward off Fever and Ague when it is likely to make its appearance, and to effect a radical cure in cases where it has already gained a foothold. It makes no difference how long the victim of this disease has suffered from it, nor how violent the disease itself may be, we are prepared to furnish indubitable evidence that Mishler's Celebrated Herb Bitters Will cure it. It is inevitable from the very nature of the medicine; hence there is no longer any need of suffering. Send to your nearest Druggist for these invaluable Bitters, they all sell them. Branch House, 26 Market Street, PITTSBURGH. FAHNESTOCK & HOLTON, TThs MANAGERS.

HAZARD POWDER I am now prepared to fill, at shortest notice, all orders for large or small lots of Hazard's Celebrated Powder. THE BANKERS' AND MERCHANTS' GRAND Presentation Enterprise, HAS PROVEN A WONDERFUL SUCCESS. CAPITAL, TICKETS AND PRIZES INCREASED FROM $1,287,148 to $1,500,000 Making this the most Stupendous and Successful Presentation Scheme ever inaugurated in the World.

Our Agents have received orders for over 100,000 Tickets more than our original issue, and the Managers being desirous of filling the orders and supplying the demand, have decided to increase the tickets from 1,287,148 to 1,500,000. The Committee appointed at the first Concert have decided to distribute the Prizes at the third and last Concert, which will take place at

IRVING HALL, IN NEW YORK CITY, ON Thursday, Oct. 24th, 1867. TICKETS ONE DOLLAR EACH. A Prize with Every Ticket.

PROSPECTUS.

A number of the leading Bankers and Merchants of New York, in consideration of the great success which has attended many of the Charitable Presentation Entertainments of the day, have formed themselves into a company, with the view of inaugurating an enterprise which, while it shall return them a fair profit, shall offer greater advantages to ticket-purchasers than any yet presented; and while being conducted upon a perfectly legitimate business basis, shall be free from those objectionable features which have characterized many of these enterprises. To this end they have consigned the sale of tickets, and the registering of the same, to Clark, Webster & Co., Bankers and Managers, No. 62 Broadway, New York, who will keep the records in their custody until the day of the Grand Presentation Entertainment, when they will be handed over to a committee selected by the audience to make an impartial distribution of presents. A reference to the number of presents and the general plan of distribution, given below, will convince even the most skeptical of the great advantages which will accrue to all who participate in the enterprise; and the Commercial and Financial standing of the Company, and the Managers and Bankers thereof, will, they hope, prove a sufficient guaranty of the fairness and impartiality with which everything in connection with the scheme will be conducted, and that the interests of ticket-holders will be most strictly watched over and guarded. In fact, it is the desire of the Managers to conduct every transaction for the mutual benefit of whoever shall purchase a ticket, and scrupulously to avoid any and everything which could in the slightest degree diminish the profits which are likely to accrue to all who invest.

THE BANKERS' AND MERCHANTS' FIRST GRAND CONCERT was given at Irving Hall, July 4th. The Second Grand Concert was given August 24th, both of them proving a grand success. The mammoth hall was filled with the most respectable citizens of New York. The audience appointed a committee of nine of the leading Bankers and Merchants to examine the register of tickets and satisfy themselves of the correctness of the registration before making the grand distribution of prizes on the 24th of October.

Important to Parties Desiring Tickets.

1st. There are but few remaining unsold. Those wishing to be supplied with tickets must order at once.
2d. The distribution of prizes will positively take place on the 24th of October, 1867.
3d. As the books will be closed immediately on the sale of the last ticket, for the purpose of the registration being examined by the Committee, it is important that we should receive orders at the very earliest moment.

This is one of the most desirable country seats on the Pennsylvania Road, and has been universally admired for the beauty and neatness of its surroundings. It will no doubt command a ready sale.

Old Man Gored by a Bull—Shocking Death.

On Tuesday last an old man named William Hess, a farmer, residing near Hulton station, on the Allegheny Valley Railroad, while out in a pasture field, was attacked by a bull, and injured in such a shocking manner as to cause his death. The animal attacked him with great fury, tossing him in the air several times, and finally goring and trampling him as he lay helpless upon the ground. It was some time before assistance reached him, and the infuriated brute was driven off with great difficulty. It was ascertained that Hess had several ribs broken, and that his body was bruised and lacerated in a terrible manner. He received medical attention as soon as possible, but his injuries were pronounced fatal, and he lingered in great agony until Saturday night, when he expired. Coroner Clawson yesterday held an inquest, and the jury found a verdict of accidental death. The deceased was about sixty years of age, and leaves a wife and two adult sons.

Sabbath School Convention at Elizabeth, Allegheny County, Pa.

There will be a Sabbath School Convention and Institute, at Elizabeth, in the Methodist Episcopal Church, commencing Tuesday, October 29th, at half past nine o'clock. The call embraces all officers and teachers of Sabbath Schools, and Ministers of the Gospel, in Jefferson, Snowden, Baldwin, Mifflin, Wilkins, Patton, Peebles, Versailles and Elizabeth townships of Allegheny county; Monongahela City Union township, of Washington county, and Rostraver township, of Westmoreland county. The call says: "Come, brethren, let us merge denominational distinctions for a little time in the one cause of pointing the children to Him who has said, 'Of such is the Kingdom of Heaven.' 'Energy begets destiny,' as well in the moral and religious world, as in the mental and physical Christian energy will train the children for this busy life, will lend immortal longings, will prepare them for eternity's changeless transactions. This is a work sufficiently sublime for the study and energies of angel and cherubim: but we have it to do, must do it, or these little ones will make life a wreck. Do not fail to be present, that we may make this Convention more eminently successful than the one held in McKeesport one year since."

Heavy Robbery—$1,200 Stolen—The Thief at Large.

Mr. Frederick Schild, grocery store keeper on Penn street, near Marbury, in the First ward, on Sunday, as is his usual custom, paid a visit to the house of a friend, a dairyman, a few miles north of Allegheny, to spend the day. He started in a wagon, in company with his wife and a gentleman. He had collected money during the week to the amount of twelve hundred dollars, which he had neglected to deposit in bank on Saturday. Not feeling that it was safe to leave the money at home, he handed it to his wife, who rolled the notes in a newspaper, which she placed in a small hand basket, and carried in the wagon. When they arrived at their destination, Mr. Schild forgot the basket and left it in the wagon. When she returned to the wagon, she found the basket there, apparently untouched, with the newspaper in it. She did not examine the basket until she returned home, when she was astonished to find the money all gone, and that the newspaper had been folded and placed in its stead. Mr. Schild immediately started back for the house of his friend and made known his loss. The dairyman called in the employees of his farm, when he ascertained that one of them, a young man, was missing. He was seen about the wagon while Mr. Schild and his wife were in the house, and it is supposed that he took the money from the basket and placed in its stead the newspaper, to avoid suspicion of the robbery. The police have been notified, but no trace of the supposed thief has been discovered.

A Worthy Tribute.

A local correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, in discussing the question, "When shall our loyal, self-sacrificing privates receive their due meed of praise?" pays a deserved tribute to William Domer, Esq., of the supply department of the Pittsburgh Columbus and Cincinnati Railroad, who was for four years during the rebellion in the military service of the country. Mr. Domer entered the cavalry service at Altoona at the outbreak of the rebellion, leaving a lucrative position on the Pennsylvania Central Railroad, which he had held for ten years, and was during his four years of service engaged with the army in the Southwest. After the battle of Shiloh, the Medical Director of the Army appointed Mr. Domer to gather and disburse supplies for the benefit of the sick and wounded, and the faithful and highly satisfactory manner in which he discharged his duties is best told by the writer above referred to, who says:

"And when the rebels hastened from Murfreesborough, leaving behind them twenty-one hospitals filled with their wounded, and twenty-five of their best surgeons to take care of them, and we had gathered up and filled eight or nine hospitals with our suffering sons and brothers, through William Domer's hands passed all the requisitions for blankets, bandages, fuel, food and medicine for all those thirty dwellings of sickness, suffering, sorrow and death. These facts, from day to day, came under the writer's own eyes. Domer had such a quiet, unostentatious way of obtaining what the sick and wounded needed, that it was refreshing to see him work. Always a faithful and obedient soldier, yet he knew how to obtain food, fuel and medicine, when needed, without going through the circumlocution office, and at the same time meeting the approbation of a wise, discreet Medical Director. A General or a Medical Director—I forget which—indorsing one of his papers, says most truthfully and appropriately of him: 'Domer would accept of no position for which he was not qualified.'"

One of our distinguished Generals testifies that Mr. Domer's bravery in the field was equal to his humane characteristics in the hospital.

Mr. Domer now fills a responsible position in the General office of the Pan Handle Railroad, in Pittsburgh, and having had transactions with him touching the welfare of the road, we know that he has in those instances been faithful to the interests of the company and energetic in their behalf. He has excellent executive ability, which fits him for the head of any department of business, and is possessed with a keen sense of integrity that is manifested in all his transactions. The tribute of his comrade in arms, and the testimony of his superior officers alluded to above, are however, as strong testimonials of his executive ability, integrity and unselfishness as any that could be written, and the company is to be congratulated in having such an efficient officer.

Court Proceedings.

QUARTER SESSIONS AND COMMON PLEAS—JUDGES STERRETT AND MELLON.

Alfred Capper was placed on trial on a charge of assault and battery, on oath of George Egley. The offense was alleged to have been committed at Parke & Co.'s Steel Works, in the Ninth ward, on the 20th of August last. The difficulty grew out of the fact that one of the parties had been discharged from work. The jury found a verdict of guilty and recommended him to the mercy of the Court.

POCKET PICKING.

James Brown, was next arraigned on a charge of stealing one thousand dollars from the pocket of H. S. Overholt, of Westmoreland county, on the third of July last, on Liberty street, near Plum alley. John M. Kirkpatrick, Esq., appeared on the part of the prosecution, and H. C. Mackrell, Esq., for the defense.

Mr. Overholt was the first witness sworn, and stated that he had drawn the money out of the Fourth National Bank and was on his way to the depot, and when a short distance below the Mansion House, between the two alleys, a man came up behind him and picked his pocket of the thousand dollars. The money was in greenbacks and he had never seen it since. The man who picked his pocket then went on up street, and the witness raised the cry that he had been robbed. The witness identified the prisoner as the man who picked his pocket.

On the cross-examination the witness testified that he was under the influence of liquor when robbed, but knew when the money was taken. The pocket was picked so quickly that he did not see.

Wm. Reardon, Esq., was sworn and testified that he was passing along Liberty street and a man ran past him followed by Overholt; the man ran into an alley; his best recollections were that the prisoner was the man he saw running.

Officer Scott was sworn and testified that he arrested the prisoner on Smithfield street at about 11 o'clock, and he had on a dark suit of clothes. Understood the defendant to be a barkeeper at Hall's saloon on Smithfield street.

George Thomas, a boy sixteen years of age, said he was on Liberty street at the time of the robbery; met a man running up street, and saw his face several times. It was his belief that the prisoner was the man. He did not think he could mistaken.

Mr. Mackrell opened the case on the part of the defense, and said he thought from the statement of Mr. Overholt, it might be considered as doubtful whether the prisoner had been robbed. The defense would also endeavor to show that the prisoner was not on Liberty street at the time of the robbery.

Several witnesses were called, and testified as to Brown's whereabouts during the afternoon of the 30 of July. It was proved that he had called at several places on business for his employer, about the time it was alleged that the money had been taken.

Mr. Mackrell addressed the jury on behalf of the defendant. The charge was a serious one, and the jury should consider the matter carefully. The testimony given by Mr. Overholt should not be received because the prosecuting witness was intoxicated at the time the money was stolen.

John M. Kirkpatrick, Esq., the Prosecuting Attorney, made the closing argument. The Court delivered the charge to the jury. A verdict of guilty was rendered.

JUDGE STERRITT AND DISTRICT ATTORNEY DUFF.

Considerable feeling arose between Hon. J. P. Sterritt and Col. L. B. Duff, District Attorney, relative to the trial of the case of the Commonwealth vs. Thomas Hulins. The case was referred to before the trial of the Brown case, and the Judge said it would be taken up after the above trial had been concluded.

J. N. McClowry, Esq., attorney for Hulins, called up the case and the District Attorney said that other cases should take the precedence, and the Hulins case could not legally come before the Court. The Court ordered the case to proceed, and the District Attorney refused to proceed. The Court appointed J. W. Taylor to prosecute the case.

Col. Duff thereupon requested that the following protest be filed:

"Commonwealth vs. Thomas Hulins: in the Court of Quarter Sessions, A & B. And now, to wit, September 30th, 1867, the above case being called by the Court, and the Court having directed the Clerk to swear the jury, the District Attorney objected, stating that he declined to call the case for trial, and that the case could not legally come before the Court unless on his motion. The Court ordered the case to proceed, when the District Attorney declined to join issue on behalf of the Commonwealth to the defendant's plea of 'not guilty.' The Court thereupon appointed J. W. Taylor, Esq., to prosecute the case, and directed him to join issue on behalf of the Commonwealth to defendant's plea, and further directed the jury to be sworn, which was done accordingly.

All of which proceedings the District Attorney claims are illegal, and desires that his objections be placed upon the record in the case."

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

Thomas Hulins, who keeps a public house at Deer Creek, nine miles up the Allegheny river, was next arraigned on a charge of assault and battery on the person of Richard Bradley. It was alleged by the prosecuting witness that he had called at Hulin's bar for a glass of lemonade and was refused, and soon after the defendant knocked him down and kicked him out doors. Several witnesses were called and corroborated this statement. The jury rendered a verdict of not guilty. The payment of the costs to be divided equally between the prosecutor and defendant.

LARCENY OF BEEF.

John C. Graham was arraigned on an indictment for the larceny of a round of beef steak weighing thirty-seven pounds from stall No. 27, in the Diamond market, on the 10th of September. The beef was valued at four dollars, and belonged to the keeper of the stall, Mr. L. A. Haufman. Jury out.

At the conclusion of the above case the Court adjourned.

In the Court of common Pleas the Shaw vs. Shaw divorce case is still on trial.

Eight or ten witnesses were examined, and the evidence went to show that Shaw had subjected his wife to very cruel treatment at times. Most of the witnesses, however, admitted that she was in the habit of drinking to excess, and provoked him to acts of violence. The public have heard so much of the unhappy differences between these parties, that the story has become stale.

COMMON PLEAS TRIAL LIST.

The following is the Common Pleas trial list for to-day:

83. Shaw vs. Shaw.
28. Hanauer vs. Scott.
84. Stewart vs. Stewart.
85. Henry vs. Agnew, Son & Co.
86. Grundloth vs. Agnew, Son & Co.
87. O'Hare vs. Dain & Pitcairn.
90. Reamer, assignee &c., vs. Lamberton & Co.
91. Venn vs Hale.
92. Bayer vs Weisman.
93. Barrington vs. Koch.

THE CITY COUNCILS.

The Nicolson Pavement Adopted.

Communication from Mayor McCarthy.

A regular meeting of the City Councils was held last evening.

SELECT COUNCIL.

Members present: Messrs. Armstrong, Brown, Coffin, Crawford, Dickson, Gallaher, McCarthy, McEwen, Morrow, Rees, Tanner, Thompson, White, Wilson and President McAuley.

Mr. Morrow, the Clerk, being absent, J. Duncan Ramsey, Esq., was selected to act as Clerk pro tem.

THE GRADING OF SECOND STREET.

Mr. Armstrong presented a petition from citizens residing on Second street, asking that the grading of Second street be suspended for the present season. Referred to Committee on Streets, with power to act. C. C. concurred.

ERECTION OF PUBLIC GAS LAMPS.

Mr. Dickson presented the report of the Gas Committee, which recommended the erection of lamps as follows: On the corner of Seventh street and Cherry alley; Clay alley and Chatham street; Factory and Etna streets; Wilkins street and Mulberry alley; four lamps, equi-distant, on Tannehill street between Webster street and Center avenue; and three on Van Braam street, between Pennsylvania avenue and Bluff street. The report was accompanied by a resolution authorizing the Gas Company to erect the lamps at the points recommended by the committee. The report was received and the resolution adopted.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE MAYOR.

The President read the following communication from His Honor Mayor McCarthy:

To the Presidents of Select and Common Councils—Gentlemen: According to the act of May 16th, 1857, all officers elected by the qualified voters of the city of Pittsburgh are subject to removal by a vote of two-thirds of the members of the Select Council, on the address of a majority of the whole number of members of the Common Council. This much by way of preface.

In the columns of a daily paper, of this city, of acknowledged character and reputation, (and the motives of the writer of the article I do not pretend to question) appears a leading editorial article introduced under the startling head of "Scoundrelism in Pittsburgh," and from which I extract for the information of Councils the following portions: "But the fact remains that 'roughs' and rascals generally, are holding high carnival in Pittsburgh." And again: "But it is too late in the day to mince matters, and until our press ventilate this disagreeable subject thoroughly, there will be no effective measures taken to preserve the orderly and law-abiding elements from violence at the hands of lawless scoundrels." And concludes with the following: "The patience of the orderly portion of our population is about exhausted, and people living and doing business in this town begin to think that we had better make less fuss about National and State politics, and turn our attention to the rectification of our municipal affairs."

If these statements are founded in truth, a proper regard for the safety of the citizens of Pittsburgh, as well as a due regard for the good name and reputation of our city, imperatively demand at the hands of Councils an examination into this alleged deplorable state of affairs.

I therefore ask Councils to order the Police Committee to ascertain the truth of these assertions, to the end that if found true, and the fault lying at the door of the Mayor, he shall be impeached and removed from office, according to the Act of May, 1857; or, if true, and not the fault of the Chief Executive officer of the city, let the corrective be applied in the proper quarter. And, if found that the facts do not warrant the charges, it is but right the citizens should know it from a responsible official source.

Yours, respectfully,
WM. C. M'CARTHY, Mayor.

The communication was received and ordered to be filed.

REPORT OF THE CITY SOLICITOR.

The City Solicitor presented his report in relation to the petition of F. L. C. Vandegrift, asking for compensation for goods destroyed on the Monongahela wharf, on the seventh of May, on account of the sewers at that point having become obstructed, whereby the wharf was overflowed and his goods destroyed, which matters had been presented in S. C. at a previous meeting and referred to him for his opinion. The report recommended that as there was a question of fact as well as law involved in the matter, that it be referred to a committee. The report was received and referred to a special committee.

GRADING AND PAVING OF STREETS.

A petition for the grading and paving of Overhill street, was read and referred to the Committee on Streets.

An ordinance authorizing the grading and paving of Lumber street, from Penn street to Mulberry alley, in the Ninth ward, was read three times and finally passed.

VIRGIN ALLEY SEWER.

Mr. White, from the Street Committee, presented the report of the Board of Viewers appointed to assess and apportion the damages and benefits arising from the construction of the public sewer on Virgin alley, the whole amount being $20,277 75. The report was received and adopted.

A resolution authorizing the payment of thirty dollars to James Onslow, an amount overpaid by him on the assessment for grading and paving Clark street, was read three times and passed. Common Council concurred.

THE NICOLSON PAVEMENT.

An ordinance providing for the paving of Wood street from Water to Fifth, with the Nicolson pavement, which was passed in Common Councils, was then taken up.

Mr. McAuley, [Mr. Wilson in the Chair] said that he would have to oppose the measure, no matter what his views might be in regard to it. A majority of the property holders on Wood street were opposed to it, and they being his constituents, it was his duty to oppose it. In addition to this, they had already exposed the property holders along the street to an enormous tax to meet the expense of the new sewer, which had just been constructed; the season was far advanced and it was too late to put the Nicolson pavement on it. And he was not satisfied about the advantages of it at any rate; he thought that some of the citizens had "Nicolson pavement on the brain."

Mr. McCarthy said that with all due respect to the gentleman who had just spoken, he thought he was growing old, and perhaps too skeptical in regard to improvements; that many of his arguments were strong reasons why the pavement should be adopted and put down at once.

Mr. Gallaher asked that the ordinance be read, after which he moved to amend it by inserting: "that the expenses of said pavement be defrayed by the property holders along the street," which was lost.

Mr. Morrow said that that matter was settled by an ordinance; that all paving was paid for by the owners of property and not by the city. He said that he was in favor of the Nicolson pavement, and thought that Wood street was the place to try it.

Mr. McAuley moved to lay the matter on the table, and called for the yeas and nays. The result was as follows: Yeas—Messrs. Brown, Crawford, Wilson and McAuley—4. Nays—Messrs. Armstrong, Coffin, Dickson, Gallaher, McCarthy, McEwen, Morrow, Rees, Tanner, Thompson and White—11. So the motion was lost.

Mr Rees moved to amend by inserting the words "providing the consent of a majority of the property holders on Wood street first be obtained." The amendment was not agreed to.

Mr. McCarthy moved to concur in the action of C. C., which was carried and the ordinance was read three times and finally passed.

OPENING OF DIAMOND ALLEY.

An ordinance providing for the opening of Diamond alley, from the west side of the Diamond to Liberty street, was then taken up, and after considerable discussion, a motion to lay it on the table was made, and the yeas and nays called, with the following result: Yeas, 2; nays, 14. The question then recurred to a third reading and final passage of the ordinance, and a motion to that effect prevailed.

PAVING OF STREETS SUSPENDED.

Mr. Morrow presented a petition from the citizens of the Eighth ward, setting forth that Cooper and Eagle streets were being graded and paved without any authority from Councils, in consequence of which they were in bad condition, and asking that the same might be stopped as it was a nuisance. The petition was accompanied by a resolution authorizing the Street Commissioner to investigate the matter and have the nuisance abated. The petition was received and the resolution adopted.

Councils adjourned.

COMMON COUNCIL.

Members present: Messrs. Barnhill, Beck, Boggs, Brush, Ford, Hare, Hemphill, House, Mawhinney, McQuewan, McClelland, McGowan, O'Neill, Rebman, Reed, Roenigk, Roberts, Seibert, Sloan, Torley, Weldon, President Steel.

The minutes of preceding meeting were read and approved.

PETITIONS.

Mr. Torley presented a petition from Mr. A. G. Myers, patentee of a new street lamp, in regard to the introduction of said lamp in this city. The petition was read and referred to Committee on Gas.

Mr. Weldon presented a petition from residents on Fifth street extension, and also on Congress street, praying that water pipes be laid on said streets. Referred to Committee on Water.

Mr. Beck presented a petition for the erection of public gas lamps on Locust street, Fifth ward, and also two on Pride street, in the Eighth ward. Referred to Committee on Gas.

Mr. Beck also presented a petition from residents of Vine street, in the Fifth ward, for the introduction of water pipe on said thoroughfare. Referred to Committee on Water.

THE NICOLSON PAVEMENT.

Mr. Ford, from the Committee on Streets, offered an ordinance providing for the repaving of Wood street, between Water and Fifth streets, with the new Nicolson pavement. Mr. Ford stated that a great majority of the citizens on said thoroughfare were favorable to the improvement, as they believed the opportunity was a good one to test the durability of the pavement.

Mr. Reed desired to know whether any arrangement could be effected with the contractor for the sewer on said street, in regard to the repairing of the street.

Mr. Ford said that the contractor was willing to relinquish that portion of his contract, provided he was permitted to remove the old paving stones.

Mr. O'Neill spoke in favor of the passage of the ordinance, stating that he believed that the Nicolson pavement should be introduced, and no better opportunity could be afforded for doing so.

The rules were suspended and ordinance passed without one dissenting voice.

Mr. Ford presented an ordinance for the paving of Fifth street, from Market to Smithfield street, with the Nicolson pavement. A petition from citizens of the street, asking for said improvement, was also read.

Mr. Reed opposed the passage of the ordinance, as the petition had not been signed by a majority of property holders on said street. A large portion of said improvement would be in front of the Custom House, and it was well known that the Government had always refused to pay such assessments.

Mr. Ford stated that a late Grand Jury of the United States Court had recommended such improvement, and he did not anticipate any difficulty as to payment.

The yeas and nays were called and resulted in twenty-one yeas to one nay—Mr. Reed voting in the negative.

LIGHTING ENGINE HOUSES.

Mr. Ford offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That hereafter, the lighting of the various engine houses shall be under the charge of the Committee on Gas Lighting, and that the same shall be paid for by warrants drawn on Appropriation No. 8 (Gas Lighting).

Mr. Ford stated that the fire companies were charged $1 50 per 1,000 feet, while the city was supplied at the rate of sixty cents per 1,000 feet.

Considerable discussion ensued, after which the resolution was referred to the Committee on Streets, with instructions to report at next meeting.

PETITION FOR WATER PIPE.

Mr. Roenigk presented a petition from the managers of the Turners' Association, asking that a water main be laid on Sixth street, between Grant street and Cherry alley. Read and referred to Committee on Water.

Mr. Torley offered a resolution providing for the erection of a fire plug on the corner of Fifth street and Cherry alley. Read and referred to Committee on Water.

AUDITORS APPOINTED.

Mr. Brush presented a communication from the Central Board of Education, asking that a committee be appointed to audit the accounts of the Board for the last fiscal year. The report was accepted, and Messrs. House and Seibert appointed on behalf of C. C. S. C. concurred, and appointed D. Gallagher.

DIAMOND ALLEY SEWER.

Mr. Hare presented a petition for the erection of a sewer on Diamond alley, between Wood street and the market buildings. Read and referred to Committee on Streets.

GRADING OF MIDDLE STREET.

Mr. Brush offered an ordinance authorizing the grading of Middle street, between Center Avenue and Reed street. The rules were suspended, and the ordinance read three times and finally passed.

THE OBSTRUCTION OF MORTON STREET.

Mr. Ford offered the following, which was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has laid down a track across Morton street, without obtaining from the city any authority therefor; and whereas said track is considerably higher than the established grade of the street, and an obstruction to the travel, and of considerable danger, rendering parties traveling on said street liable to accident; therefore be it

Resolved, That the City Solicitor be authorized to take such legal steps as may be necessary to cause the removal of said obstruction.

On motion adjourned.

Election for Councilman.—An election took place yesterday in the Fourth ward, Allegheny, for a member of Common Council, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of E. F. Faulhaber. The polls were not opened until six o'clock in the evening, and only then in the Second Precinct, where they were kept open an hour. Only five votes were cast in the ward, which at a general election polls over seven hundred votes. The votes were all received by Louis Moul, an energetic Republican, which, of course, is sufficient to elect him.

Correction.—A. A. Rankin, the lad who was found hanging in the barn of Mr. David Rankin, in Elizabeth township, some weeks since, was not implicated in any of the recent robberies which have taken place in that township. The lad was rich in his own right, and the hanging is supposed to have been accidental.

Police Intelligence.

[Before Alderman Butler.]

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

John Hughes appeared yesterday and made an information against John Kearney, charging him with assault and battery. A hearing was had, which resulted in the accused being committed to jail for trial in default of three hundred dollars bail.

WIFE VS. HUSBAND,

Emily Royal instituted suit against her husband, Jacob Royal, charging him with surety of the peace. He was held to bail in the sum of three hundred dollars for his appearance at Court to answer, and failing to procure that amount was committed to prison.

[Before Alderman McMasters.]

CROSS-SUIT.

Jacob Royal, against whom an information for surety of the peace was lodged by his wife, Emily, appeared before this Alderman and brought suit against her for the same offense. She was also committed to jail for trial.

[Before Alderman Taylor.]

SURETY CASE.

Elizabeth Jarvis made an information yesterday against her husband, Wm. Jarvis, for surety of the peace, alleging that he threatened her with bodily injury. The parties are residents of the Ninth ward. William has not yet been arrested.

[Before Alderman Humbert.]

ENTERED BAIL.

Andrew Patterson, who was committed to jail on the 26th inst., on a charge of larceny, yesterday entered bail for his appearance at court and was released.

[Before Justice Arent, of Allegheny.]

RELEASED ON BAIL.

Justice Arent, of the Seventh ward, Allegheny, yesterday released on bail J. Schwalm, who was committed to jail by him on the 29th inst., to answer a charge of assault and battery.

[Before Alderman Thomas.]

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

George Briggs made information before Alderman Thomas, charging Andrew Peters with assault and battery. The prosecutor alleges that the defendant struck him with the butt end of a whip, caught him by the throat and tried to choke him, and otherwise abused him. A warrant was issued and the defendant arrested. A hearing was held which resulted in the difficulty being amicably settled by the parties. The prosecutor resides on Gazzam's Hill and the defendant on Pennsylvania avenue.

FALSE PRETENSES.

Francis Wagner appeared and preferred an information, charging one Edward Butshok with false pretenses. The prosecutor alleges that the defendant obtained money to the amount of $35 from him under representations which he has found out are false, and he is unable to procure the money from the defendant. A warrant was issued and a hearing was had, which resulted in the defendant being held to bail. The parties reside on Pride street, in the Eighth ward.

ASSAULTED HIM.

Andrew Patterson appeared and preferred an information, charging Thomas Clemans with assault and battery. The prosecutor alleges that the defendant struck him in the face, scratched his neck and pushed him against a wagon, and otherwise abused him. A hearing was had, which resulted in the defendant being held to bail. The parties reside in the Seventh ward.

CUTTING HIS BOARD BILL.

Francis Wagner made an information charging Edward Butshok with false pretenses. The prosecutor alleges that the defendant did obtain boarding to the amount of $10 from him, under representations which he has found to be false. A warrant was issued and the defendant arrested and held to bail. The parties reside in the Seventh ward.

Sight Restored.

I applied to Dr. Aborn, at No. 134 Smithfield street, two weeks ago, with a painful disease of my left eye, being entirely deprived of its use. To-day the disease is entirely cured and the sight restored. I consider the Doctor one of the most skillful eye surgeons in the United States. His treatment is so mild and almost magically successful.

JOHN FAGAN,

A Life Saved.

Last winter I was attacked with a severe cold, which settled on my lungs. My cough was very distressing and prostrating. I lost thirty pounds in weight. My stomach and liver also were alarmingly deranged. Rev. Dr. Gracey, pastor of the Fourth United Presbyterian Church, took me to Dr. Aborn, of No. 134 Smithfield street, under whose skillful treatment I am gaining my former health rapidly. Within three weeks I have gained five pounds.

A Dangerous Season.

An almost unparalleled quantity of rain has fallen during the summer. Vegetation has been wonderfully thick and rank, and, as it decays, an unusual amount of sickness may be expected unless proper means are taken to prevent it.

Fever and ague and billious remittents already prevail to an alarming extent, and as the fall advances and the malarious night fogs become heavier, the sick list is likely to increase both in the city and the country. It is, therefore, only an act of common prudence to keep the vital forces in full vigor, so that they may resist the unhealthy influences of the season. Reinforced by the tonic operation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the system, however weak and susceptible naturally, in nine cases out of ten, successfully combat every species of atmospheric poison by which epidemics are produced.

During the month of September, October and November the difference in temperature between day and night is very great, and the chilling dews and mists of the season are the prolific causes of indigestion, cholera-morbus, dirrhœa and dysentery. Bearing this in mind, remember, also, that the Bitters not only invigorate the stomach and brace the nerves, but act specifically upon the bowels and the liver, imparting to these important organs regularity and tone. It is not reasonable to expect immunity from prevalent complaints if no precautions are taken to escape them.

Hostetter's Bitters are at once pleasant and to the taste, and the most certain of all safeguards against febrile ailments.

DIED:

MAXWELL—On Monday morning, September 30th, in New Orleans, of yellow fever, WILLIAM MAXWELL, JR., of Greenville, Mercer county, in the 29th year of his age.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

MONDAY EVENING, September 30, 1867.

The discount market opened very briskly, and the offerings at our banks, so far as we could learn, were large, whilst the discounts were quite light. The closing day of the quarter was not a favorable one for borrowers, and it requires a few weeks to elapse before a turn in their favor will take place. The quarterly statement of the banks of this city will be looked at with more than ordinary interest. These reports would subserve a better purpose and have a wider range of influence, if they were published weekly instead of quarterly. Under the old system they appeared monthly, but the law now only requires a quarterly statement, and there is no disposition with our banks to go beyond its requirements, even if it would be more satisfactory to the public.

—The advance in all the leading railroad stocks to-day shows that the change in the New York money market from the stringency that was upon it for the past two weeks to comparative ease, has operated favorably and quickly upon the stock market, and established a higher range of prices.

—A rumor is current in semi-official circles that fifty million dollars of the new three per cent. will soon be re-issued. The gold reserve of the Treasury will be maintained, and the gold will not be sold hereafter unless the Treasury is in need of currency to meet its daily obligations. It is the belief of Mr. McCulloch that the revenue receipts will soon show a great increase from the tax upon cotton and whisky in bond.

—It is reported that Secretary McCulloch is about to commission a number of agents to examine into the financial affairs of the National Banks in all the large cities, with a view to ascertain the actual amount of deposits in each.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL,
TUESDAY, October 1, 1867.

Business—The oil market yesterday was devoid of interest; buyers were not very numerous. This, however, is no unusual occurrence for the last day of the month, dealers generally occupying their time in closing up the affairs of the month. As our readers must be fully aware, the sales for September delivery were large. The nominal rates for crude oil were, first water, 12@12½c; spot oil 13@13¼c; Smith's Ferry spot, 13c. The principal portion of the operations for some time past were resales of contracts, the purchasers paying the difference in cash. The Oil City market was reported dull, prices being irregular.

Crude—Properly speaking, there was nothing done yesterday, buyers and sellers being apart in their views. The following sales were made previously, but not reported, viz: 200 bbls, bulk, on the spot late on Saturday evening, at 13½c; late on Friday evening, 3,600 bbls, both oil, in tank, was disposed of to a refiner at 12½c ₱ gal. The gravity was 41 degrees.

Refined Oil—Yesterday was a dull day, most dealers having the month's unsettled business to clear up. As usual on the last day of the month transactions were neglected. The refined operations were 1,500 bbls, as follows: 500 bbls S W, Philadelphia, spot, 35½c; sales of 1,000 bbls, all the year, B O, at 36c. This is the highest figure reported for a long time. The asking prices for S W, free on cars at Works, was 36c.

BOSTON.

The market for petroleum is steady, according to the Bulletin, with a fair demand for export and consumption. There is a little falling off in shipments at some of the Atlantic ports, due to a slight decline in the European markets. But the stocks of bonded oil are much reduced, and will all be wanted before the close of the season.

Free oil is in good request, both for present use and forward delivery. The wants of consumption are steadily increasing as the supply of daylight diminishes, and our refiners have all they can do in filling orders from the trade. Crude oil is firm, and taken for manufacture as fast as received.

We quote crude petroleum firm at 17@18c ₱ gal. in bulk, and nominally 21@22c in barrels. Refined oil is buoyant, with sales at 33@35c ₱ gal for bonded lots, and 45@48c in cans and cases for shipment to Southern latitudes. Free do is in good demand at 50@54c ₱ gal for Western and Boston, up to 55c for Downer's kerosene. Naptha is selling at a range of 16@20c ₱ gal, as to gravity. Residuum is nominal at $2 75@4 25 ₱ bbl.

Whaling Fleets—Unfavorable Reports.

The New Bedford (Mass.) Standard says that the bark Black Eagle, which arrived September 24th from Hudson Bay, brings the first intelligence from the whaling ground, and with the reports from Cumberland Inlet, brought by the recent arrivals, is not encouraging. The whaling in Hudson's Bay the past season was a total failure, only one whale having been taken up to August 23, the fish not making their appearance, while at Cumberland Inlet the whales were plenty enough, but the bad weather prevented their capture. Captain White reports the total loss of the steam whaling bark Pioneer, of New London, in Hudson's Strait, she not having succeeded in getting through the ice. He also brings news from Mr. Hall, the Arctic explorer, who was at Repulse Bay, where he has remained for about two years. A year ago last winter he made a journey to Pelly Bay, about one hundred and eighty miles north. Next spring, in company with six white men who have joined him from the whaling fleet, he intends to proceed to King William's Land, and will return home, if possible, in 1869. If the shortly expected news from the North Pacific fleet is unfavorable, and the catch of the North Atlantic sperm whaling fleet is not greatly improved from the recent reports, an advance in our staple commodities may be expected.

Leather Trade.

PHILADELPHIA.

During the latter part of last week there was a fair trade transacted. The market, however, does not present the activity that some dealers have been expecting, or that is usual at this season of the year. Oak Slaughter in the Rough—The receipts continue liberal, and the stock upon the market is still upon the increase, with a willingness upon the part of the receivers to sell freely at prices favoring the buyers. We continue our quotations of 42@45c ₱ lb for light weights; 40@43c for medium; 43@45c for good heavy, and extra prime heavy 48c. Slaughter sole continues in fair request, with light receipts. We quote country tannages, light weights, 40@43c ₱ lb; medium 42@45c; good heavy 43@46c, and extra heavy, for hose, 47@50c. At the city tanneries, light, 45@48c ₱ lb; medium 48@50c; ordinary heavy 48@50c, and extra heavy, for belting, 52c. Spanish Sole—The demand continues good, especially for best heavy weights. The receipts continue lighter than a few days ago. We quote best at 40c ₱ lb; good 36@38c; common 34@36c, and damaged 30@33c.

Gloucester Fish Market.

FOR THE WEEK ENDING SEPTEMBER 27.

George's Codfish—In fair demand; last sales at $6 25. Mackerel—About 2,200 bbls have arrived from the Bay the past week, which have been quickly taken at advanced prices. We quote sales of No. 1s at $21 50@21 00; No. 2s, $13 50@13 25. Shore continue very scarce with a slight advance. Last sales of No. 1 at $18 50; No. 2, $13 25. Fresh Halibut $10 ₱ cwt. Smoked do—8c ₱ lb. Oil—Cod, 8c ₱ gallon.—Cape Ann Adv.

Coffee.

The Anglo-Brazilian Times of August 7th says everybody concurs in anticipating the largest harvest ever gathered in coffee. Every year new plantations are coming into bearing, and the yield of the trees is particularly abundant this season. Of Cotton, likewise, the anticipations are very sanguine. The lowest computation is some 600,000 arrobas—the highest, 1,000,000.

PRODUCE AND GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL,
MONDAY EVENING, September 30, 1867.

Our general markets continue quiet and unchanged. There seems to be a continued despondent and unsettled feeling in commercial circles, but the reason for it cannot be accounted for. Country merchants continue to purchase only in amounts actually required to supply the most urgent wants of their customers. There is a lack of confidence in present prices, and dealers and consumers prefer coming to market often in preference to buying to any extent at one purchase.

The receipts of some of the leading articles of produce, per river and rail, since our last, were as follows: Flour, 912 bbls; apples, 314 bbls; corn, 570 sacks; wheat, 695 sacks; barley, 424 sacks; rye, 760 sacks; oats, 1,096 sacks, and butter, 41 packages.

We quote as follows, which are the whole sale store prices unless otherwise noted:

Bacon—The market is active and firm at the following prices: Canvassed sugar cured hams 23c; plain sugar cured hams 22c; clear sides 18c; rib sides 17c; shoulders 14½@15c, and dried beef 24c ₱ lb.

Mess Pork—We quote at $24 ₱ bbl.

Lard—Demand fair at 14@14½c ₱ lb.

Lard Oil—The demand is fair at $1 08@1 10 ₱ gallon for No. 1, and 90c ₱ gallon for No. 2.

Hay—Sales from country wagons were made at $15 00@19 00 ₱ ton.

Cheese—We note sales of western factory at 14c; Goshen at 18½c to the trade; and Sweitzer at 19@20c ₱ lb.

Apples—Sales reported of 20 bbls, sound, at $3 00, and 60 bbls at $3 50@4 00 ₱ bbl.

Butter—Sales reported of 20 packages at 30c, and 15 at 35c ₱ lb.

Eggs—The general sales were made at 20@21c ₱ dozen.

Potatoes—Choice Irish potatoes are quoted at 90c ₱ bush. Sales of 15 bbls Jersey sweets at $4 50 ₱ bbl, and 50 bbls at $4 30 ₱ bbl.

Lime—We quote white lime at $2 ₱ bbl.

Wheat—The receipts are more liberal, and a good deal passing East. First quality of red winter may be quoted at $2 30 ₱ bush.

Corn—There is very little doing in corn. Sales of 1 car shelled at $1 28 ₱ bush, and several lots free on board at $1 30 ₱ bush reported.

Oats—Receipts light and demand active. Sales reported of 1 car free on board at 70c; 1 car on platform at 66c; 1 car on the track at 65c, and a small lot delivered at 68c ₱ bush.

Barley—Sales at the depot of 300 bush at $1 30 ₱ bush reported.

Rye—Receipts fair. Dealers are paying $1 35 ₱ bush.

Flour—The market is somewhat excited. We notice an advance in all markets, as well as our own. Dealers here find it difficult to procure choice brands of winter wheat flour to supply home demand; and spring wheat flour is beginning to be inquired for for general use—owing to the advance. Several shipments of flour have lately been made from this market to various points in Ohio. The receipts of wheat from Chicago are inadequate to supply the mills. The long continued dry weather keeps the country mills from running, and should it continue prices must advance, as will also all kinds of grain. We quote choice spring wheat flour at $10 50@10 75; medium $10 00@10 25; choice brands of winter $11 50@11 75, and medium at $11 25@11 50 ₱ bbl.

HOPS.

In New York hops continue in fair request and firm, including American at 40@70c for new; old growths at 10@30c, and foreign at 40@65c. The following are the prices current on Saturday last: New York State, common to fair, new, 40@45c; New York State, good to prime, new, 50@55c ₱ lb; New York State, choice to fancy, new, 60@65c ₱ lb; Eastern, common to prime, new, 40@55c ₱ lb; Michigans, common to prime, new, 45@50c ₱ lb; Wisconsins, prime to fancy, new, 55@60c ₱ lb; yearlings, of all grades, 30@50c ₱ lb; old olds, 10@30c ₱ lb. The past week's business is thus noticed by Mr. Emmet Wells: The slight improvement noticed one week ago has by means of continued light receipts been well supported. Regular dealers still met with some difficulty in finding suitable grades to fill immediate orders, and in most instances are compelled to resort to the commission market. They will necessarily be subjected to this inconvenience until their purchases made in the country begin to arrive, which will not be much sooner than two or three weeks. The high speculative feeling which has prevailed throughout the hop districts of Central New York and Wisconsin during the past few weeks, is said to have considerably subsided. Large operators having nearly secured their supply, have withdrawn from the market, and growers who have been holding for higher prices are beginning to manifest some anxiety, and in many instances are willing to accept 5@10c per lb below their former views. The opinion prevails among some of our dealers that a large portion of the Wisconsin crop is being improperly cured, on account of the inexperience of many growers, and the limited facilities they have for drying, as compared with the extensive yield. Imports of hops in to New York, from September 1, to date, from Liverpool, 35 bales. Exports during the same period, to Liverpool, 29 bales; London 10 bales; South America 2 bales; Mexico 21 bales; Cuba 5 bales; total 80 bales. Foreign markets—Our foreign advices are down to September 14, giving the following quotations: Fine new Sussex, ₱ cwt, £10@£10 10s; fine new Kent's ₱ cwt £10 10s; fine new Alost ₱ cwt £6 10s@£7; fine new French ₱ cwt £8@£8 8s; fine new Bavarians ₱ cwt £10 10s. Many of the Sussex planters would not sell under £12, but this was considered beyond the real value. It is believed that the large yield on the continent will admit of shipments to England at from £7@£8 ₱ cwt.

TOBACCO.

BALTIMORE.

Maryland and Ohio are still in good receipt, and there is a brisk demand for export; all the receipts of Maryland find ready buyers at full quotations. Ohio likewise is in good request, and prices steadily maintained. In Kentucky description the market is quiet but holders firm. Inspections for the week 1,332 hhds Maryland, (155 hhds reinspected;) 654 Ohio, (15 reinspected;)—total inspections, 1,986 hhds.

IRON.

BOSTON.

The market for pig iron remains quiet, though the rates for foreign are rather unsettled, and sales are being made at irregular rates. Only small lots are moving, and the volume of trade is hardly up to the seasonable average. Most large consumers have supplies contracted for ahead, and a large portion of the current production of domestic pig metal is thus already sold for forward delivery. However, the supply on the open market, though not large, is fully up to the wants of present consumption, and holders are anxiously looking for an improvement in the demand for manufactured products.

Manufactured iron is a little more active, but there is no quotable change to note in the leading articles. Scotch Pig is quiet, with sales of No. 1, in small lots from store, at $45@47 ₱ ton for the various brands. American is firm and in moderate demand, with sales of retail lots at $45@48 ₱ ton, for the different numbers. Charcoal Pig is selling at $50@60 ₱ ton, as to brand. Bar iron is firm at late advance, with sales English and American, from store, at $95@100 ₱ ton for common and $105@110 for refined. Railroad iron is firm at $53@54 ₱ ton, gold, for English, and $80@83, currency, for American. Cast Steel is selling at 19@20c ₱ lb for English, and 20@22c for American. Anchors are selling at 8½@9c ₱ lb; Chain Cables (¾@2 inches thick) 8¼@8c ₱ lb; Coil Chains (⅜@1¼ inches thick) 13¼@8¼c ₱ lb. Boiler Plates are selling at 7½c for flanges; 5¾c for C No. 1, and 5¼c ₱ lb for common and tank. Russia Sheet is firm, with sales at 13@13½c, gold, and 20@21c, currency. English and American do are selling at 9¾@10c ₱ lb. Nails are a shade higher, and selling at 5¾@6c ₱ lb for assorted sizes. Old Iron is selling at $1 50@1 70 ₱ 100 lbs for Cast, and $2@2 12½ for Scrap.

Flax.

The Kankakee, Ill., Gazette says there are nine thousand acres of flax in that county this year. Its growth of straw is said to be unusually large. This crop is found to be remunerative to the farmer. The Kankakee flax mill expects to use up the product of these nine thousand acres this year.

New York Cattle Market.

NEW YORK, September 30.—The offerings of beef cattle this morning were 1,900 head. Trade was quite brisk, and the prices obtained showed a slight advance over last week. Ordinary and inferior lots, however, are without improvement, and rather difficult to dispose of, the inquiry being almost entirely for the better grades. Extras 17c; prime 16½@17c; first quality 15½@16c; fair to good 14@15c; ordinary 12@13½c; inferior 10@11c. The market closed steady. Receipts 6,961.

The supply of sheep and lambs to-day was large, about 5,000. The demand was not very active, and the market was heavy, closing at about last week's figures. Sheep sold at 4½ to 6½c, including an extra lot at 7c; lambs 6 to 8c; one lot extra 8¼c. Receipts 33,429.

Little activity in the hog market, and prices are a shade lower. About 30 car loads were on sale, and all found purchasers at 5½@6¼c for light, 6¾@7½c for fair to good, 7@8c for prime to extra. The bulk of the offerings were common in quality. Receipts 24,217.

Louisville Market.

LOUISVILLE, September 30.—Sales 40 hogsheads tobacco at full rates; $4 65@17 60 for lugs to medium leaf. Flour sustained at $7 75@8 12 for superfine to No. 1. Wheat $2 35 for prime. Corn—Shelled in bulk at $1 05. Oats 68c in bulk. Rio Coffee declined ½c. Mess pork $24 50. Bacon shoulders 14½c; clear sides 18½c, packed. Lard in tierces 13½c. Cotton 19@20c. Whisky 35c in bond.

Philadelphia Market.

PHILADELPHIA, September 30.—Flour quiet; northwestern extra $11 75. Wheat in good demand; sales 3,000 bush red at $2 45; amber $2 50; white California $2 90. Corn less active; sales 6,000 bushels mixed western at $1 43. Oats unchanged. Petroleum excited; standard white 35c. Whisky—nothing doing.

The River and Matters along the Wharf.—Trade in the vicinity of the landing was not very active. Above the bridge the Brownsville boats are still making their regular trips; in fact they are doing everything in their power to accommodate the people that reside along the valley of the Monongahela. Below the bridge there was nothing done. The boats are in fine order for the fall trade.

The Steamboat Owners and Officers would do well to bear in mind that an important meeting will be held this morning at the rooms of Messrs. Flack & Collingwood, Water street. A full attendance is desirable, as business of the utmost importance will come up for adjustment. Let all be on hand.

Capt. Thomas Shuman is rusticating at Brownsville waiting for the river to rise.

Boat Raised.—The last two boats down the Missouri, report the Henry S. Turner afloat, having been raised probably on the 18th. She was being lightened to come down to St. Louis for repairs.

The United States wrecking boat G. G. Totten, having successfully removed the wrecks in Coon Slough, has come down the river and is now engaged in uprooting snags between St. Louis and Warsaw.

The New Orleans Commercial Bulletin says: Our steamboat friends will be pleased to learn that cotton will hereafter be removed without prepayment of tax by being consigned to the Collector of the Port.

A lady of Savannah, Georgia, while out yachting, in flirting her fan struck from her person a diamond pin worth $650. It went to the bottom of the sea, and is now, no doubt, decorating the person of some interesting mermaid.

Passing Away.—The St. Louis Dispatch says: We regret to learn that Capt. Edward Stevens, familiarly known to thousands of our citizens as "Ned Stevens," died at half-past one o'clock today. He was a soldier in the war, and was wounded while charging with distinguished bravery, the Confederate position at Chickasaw Bayou, along with Blair's brigade. He was a warm-hearted, gallant man, a steadfast friend, and estimable citizen.

The Mobile Times says: Accounts from the interior are of the same fashion as previous stock on hand, that is, "low water and worms." An old Captain of our acquaintance, who has been devoting his leisure time to "putting in a few licks" in the way of cotton raising, says that the worms commenced on a field of his one day about 2 o'clock, and eat it entirely up by sun-down, whereupon he threw up his hand, came down and went to work on a boat.

The steamers Active and Leclair No. 2 left with all the freight they could manage on the water. The Leclair No. 2 is in charge of Captain M. A. Cox, one of the cleverest officers that comes to this port. She will leave daily at 5 P. M. The Active is a new boat. She will be commanded by Captain Bougher, an officer of large experience.

Several other boats of light draught are engaged in the same trade. Among them are the Fair Play and Emma Logan.

Memphis, September 27.—The Virginia is hard aground at Horn Lake, ten miles below here. She is lying in a bad position, one hundred and fifty yards out of the channel, and will have to be lightered over. The Kellogg and barges are aground below President's Island. The Commonwealth and Yankee, with barges, have not worked over Island No. 34 yet. The river is still falling, with four and a half feet on the bars to Cairo. The Arkansas continues low, with two feet four inches in the channel. The Cornelia is up for St. Louis at 8 P. M.

Passing Away.—A Memphis paper has the following: The remains of Dr. G. W. McCarn, late President of the Southern Life Insurance Company of this city, were forwarded yesterday to Davenport, Iowa, by the Belle Memphis. We learn from our friend Capt. Larry Harmstad that Capt. Ed. Brooks, of New Orleans, died of yellow fever in that city on Sunday. Capt. Brooks was a member of the firm of John E. Hyde & Co., steamboat agents in New Orleans, and was widely known as an old steamboat clerk and Captain of several large packets running from Memphis previous to the war.

Evansville, September 28.—Weather unchanged. The river has fallen two inches. The Chattanooga, from Cairo, is the only arrival. The Starlight got over French Island Bar early this morning. Her barges and freight are still above. The Pink Varble got over at three o'clock this morning, after twelve hours' work. The Bermuda set her spars at 9 A. M., expecting to walk over. The Charleston, with three barges, had just arrived above, and was prospecting. Twenty-two inches steamboat water was the best that could be found after two hours' sounding. The Phantom is preparing to leave for Eastport with boat and barge loaded to two feet. Nothing from the Bertha or Norman since they left here.

Low Water.—The Memphis Avalanche says: Shoals and sandbars are accumulating in the Arkansas, and our packets plying up that stream are very careful to avoid heavy cargoes. White River is still navigable to Augusta for boats drawing three and a half feet. The Belle Memphis reports the river worse than ever known before between this port and Cairo. At No. 34 and Phillips's four and a half feet scant is all that can be found. The superb steamer Belle Memphis, of the Memphis and St. Louis Packet Company, reached the city yesterday, and left last evening on her return to St. Louis. She was detained on bar at Hat Island thirty hours, and at several other points of intricate navigation some time.

Louisville.—The Journal, of Friday, has the following:

The surveying party of Captain Roberts, who have charge of the Ohio river, from Cincinnati to Cairo, have reached this place, and from yesterday's Cincinnati Commercial we obtain the following: "They have made a careful survey of the river along its beach, and placed permanent posts, with the distance marked thereon, every five miles." This is the only accurate survey of the Ohio river ever made, and the distance between Cincinnati and Louisville is considerably reduced. It has always been called one hundred and fifty miles between the two points, but this survey makes it only one hundred and thirty-two miles.

From Cincinnati to Madison it is eighty-six miles, and from Madison to Howard's shipyard at Jeffersonville, is forty-four miles, making a distance of one hundred and thirty miles from Cincinnati. From Howard's shipyard to the Mail boat landing it is fully two miles, making the distance one hundred and thirty-two miles. The object of the survey is to locate the bars and obstructions to navigation, with a view to report the same at the next meeting of Congress.

The New Steamboat Project.—A Cairo correspondent has the following: "The directors and others interested in the success of the Mississippi Valley Navigation Company, instituted to give practical effect to the new style of low pressure, separate compartment, accident proof, restaurant flying, comfort giving and altogether complete and superior steamboat invented or planned by Captain De Haven, held a meeting in this city night before last, which was well attended by gentlemen from Saint Louis, New Orleans, Cincinnati, Louisville, and cities generally in the Mississippi Valley. The deliberations of the meeting were very harmonious and enthusiastic. The President, Captain De Haven, and the Superintendent, Captain R. S. Kirk, made elaborate and favorable reports of the increasing interest manifested in the success of the enterprise at the different points which they have visited. After full discussion it was decided to change the domicil of the company from New Orleans to Cairo, as affording the most central position to the great Mississippi Valley, and also take advantage of better facilities offered by the laws of Illinois. Proper steps were taken to reorganize under these laws. Propositions for building the first boat were received from different parties and it is expected the contract will be closed in a short time. The first bid, it is reported, were from the parties who built the hull of the Richmond, at Madison, Indiana. The office of the Company will hereafter be in Cairo, where all communications will meet with prompt attention from D. De Haven, President, and D. C. Martin, Secretary."

The Cairo correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial in the following paragraph shows up the folly of withholding facts from reporters. We rather suspect that the clerk of the Mary Erwin has made a discovery before this time:

"The Mary Erwin had a slim trip. Her officers furnished another instance, last night, of the folly of attempting to keep a knowledge of accidents from newspaper reporters. She had sunk a barge at the 'Sisters,' and damaged a few lots of freight. Not wishing the facts to be published, as I suppose, her clerk professed to be greatly crowded by business, on his arrival here, and was very abrupt in his answers to questions put to him by the newspaper reporters here, and gave them no information of the accident. Shortly before she left, and immediately before the closing of the night report by telegraph, the reporters found a rumor on the streets that the Erwin herself had been sunk on a bar, and raised again in a few hours, damaging much freight. They traced this rumor until they soon found a person who confirmed it in every particular, and it was so telegraphed to all newspapers who have enterprise enough to keep correspondents here. This morning we learn the true state of the case from other steamers. If the report, as published, works any injury to the steamer, she can have the consolation that her own officers are to blame for it, as, had they told the reporters the real facts and requested them not to publish them, it is probable nothing would have been said about the matter, or at least there would have been no report published of the boat sinking."
